NAZIS CLAIM RED DEFENSES CRUMBLING BEFORE LENINGRAD

FURIOUS FIGHTING ADMITTED

While Invaders Are Reported to Have Destroyed Seven Soviet Army Divisions on Northeast Front, Moscow Bulletin, Reporting Bitter Hostilities All Along 2,000-Mile Front, Gives No Hint That Fall of City Is Imminent

ITALIANS SAID TO BE IN ZONE OF ASSEMBLY

By the Associated Press

Adolf Hitler's invasion armies may expect a vast counter-offensive by 3,000,000 Red army troops within two weeks, Soviet military quarters in London predicted today, while the Germans declared that Nazi columns smashing toward Leningrad had destroyed seven Russian divisions (about 105,000 men).

London sources said Red army ranks which underwent the first violent shock of the German blitzkrieg were now being strengthened by hundreds of thousands of reservists for the predicted counter-drive.

These sources declared that Premier Joseph Stalin would give the signal for the big push immediately he was satisfied that the German armies had spent their reserve strength in attempts to batter their way through the central front to Moscow.

Soviet dispatches asserted that the Germans were being held to a standstill and were exhausting themselves in futile assaults on Soviet offenses.

By contrast, Berlin pictured the Russians as cracking along the entire front and indicated that Nazi forces may soon have Leningrad under siege.

German troops smashing toward Leningrad, Russia's great western port, were reported today to have destroyed seven Red Army divisions (about 105,000 men) on the northeast front.

Nazi dispatches said the Russian troops were annihilated after completion of a German encirclement movement. Thousands of prisoners were reported taken.

Earlier advices had already indicated that Soviet defenses were crumbling before Leningrad, with German columns striking from the south and Finnish troops moving down the Karelian peninsula from the north in a gigantic "squeeze" maneuver.

A Red Army bulletin, reporting bitter fighting all along the 2,000-mile battlefront, gave no hint that the fall of Leningrad might be imminent.

North of the city of more than 3,000,000 population, lying on the Gulf of Finland, the Germans said Russian troops were spraying the forests and fields with naptha and then setting them afire with artillery barrages in a desperate attempt to stem the advance.

Whether the Russians would put Leningrad itself to the torch, in execution of Premier Stalin's "scorched earth" policy, remained to be seen.

Adolf Hitler's headquarters, commenting on the Leningrad thrust, declared tersely:

"Units fighting in Estonia threw back the opponent to the north."

On the central front, in the drive toward Moscow, the Nazi communique asserted that a steel trap around Red armies east of Smolensk had been "further tightened."

In the south, it was said, Ger-

Ratification of Oil Compact is Requested

Washington, July 31—(AP)—President Roosevelt was asked by a large delegation today to transmit for congressional ratification the new interstate oil compact signed by 11 states and extending for two years from September 1, 1941 an agreement to conserve oil and gas.

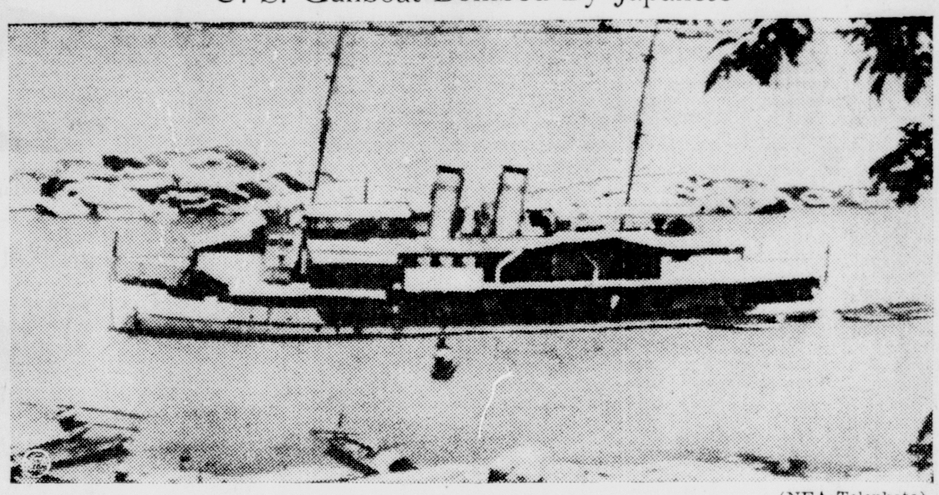

The original copy of the compact was presented to the president by a delegation of oil men and congressional leaders.

States which have agreed to the compact are Arkansas, Louisiana, New York, Pennsylvania, Oklahoma, Texas, Kansas, Colorado, New Mexico, Illinois and Michigan.

Representatives of the Interstate Oil Compact Commission sadi the 11 produced approximately 74 per cent of the nation's total oil production. They predicted that other producing states would soon join the compact.

LINES DRAWN FOR FIGHT TO FINISH IN PHILADELPHIA

Ousted State Secretary of Revenue William J. Hamilton, Jr., Formally Declares War Against the Quaker City Republican Leadership

MAY BE STATE-WIDE

Philadelphia, July 31—(AP)—Battle lines took shape today for what may be one of the bitterest political rivalries Philadelphia has known. Some observers believed it eventually may become a state-wide fight.

William J. Hamilton Jr., ousted state secretary of revenue, formally declared war against the Quaker City Republican leadership and pledged a finish fight in the coming primary election.

"You can rest assured we are going to wage a real fight against that old gang in Philadelphia," he said upon arrival from Harrisburg. "We are swinging right into action for the primary. The chips are down for a finish fight."

He hurried to city hall for conferences with two associates, Sheriff David M. Watson, Republican leader of the 22nd ward, and Austin Meehan, leader of the 35th ward, to map "plans for a permanent organization to lick this gang."

That the battle is on also was evidenced by resignation of W. Atlee Burpee Jr., as a trustee of Eastern Penitentiary. The Philadelphia business man, a Hamilton-Watson-Meehan candidate for the Republican nomination for city treasurer in the Sept. 9 primary, flatly said he was quitting because of Hamilton's dismissal.

Governor James ousted the revenue secretary on the ground he was engaging in factional politics in Philadelphia instead of serving all the people of the commonwealth. Hamilton charged his dismissal was dictated by Joseph N. Pew, oil executive and heavy contributor to the Philadelphia GOP organization which Hamilton is opposing. James said it was his own idea.

Crisis in Russo-German Struggle Still Lies Ahead, Experts Agree

Marked Unwillingness to Predict Ultimate Outcome is Manifested in Informed Government Quarters in Washington

RIVAL CLAIMS MYSTIFY

BY EDWARD E. BOMAR

Washington, July 31—(AP)—Belief that the crisis of the Russo-German struggle still lies ahead was expressed today in informed government quarters on the basis of a limited and uncertain flow of official reports supplementing the formal communiques from Berlin and Moscow.

A marked unwillingness to predict the ultimate outcome was manifest, however, in contrast with the widespread feeling at the start of the invasion more than five weeks ago that a Nazi victory was inevitable and probably would come swiftly.

One top official acknowledged that the government had as much difficulty as the reading public in trying to sift hope, prejudice and propaganda from the rival claims of the belligerents.

Nevertheless, officials with access to the most authoritative available data showed a guarded inclination to favor German chances for further smashing triumphs this summer.

The Nazi army has shown the same willingness as in France, the Balkans and Crete to sacrifice men and arms to gain objectives, it was noted.

Officials concerned with technical military aspects of the vast conflict expressed particular interest in these reports:

The Russians claim an early and almost complete elimination of parachute and air-borne infantry attacks.

About half the credit was given to the policy of arming peasants and turning them into guerilla fighters.

The Russians also have presented evidence in support of a claim to perfection of anti-aircraft defenses.

The detailed reports made evident that the Germans, too, have developed an extremely efficient anti-tank defense. Because of it, Nazi infantry has been able to score heavy gains in the Ukraine, even though faced with superior Red army armored units.

The official reports tend to confirm Berlin claims that a number

WEST PART OF STATE VISITED BY HARD STORMS

Downpour Spells at Least Temporary Relief From Eight-Day Heat Wave But Continued Warm Weather is Predicted in East

TWISTER IN TOWANDA

By the Associated Press

Local thunderstorms was the Pennsylvania forecast today in the wake of severe wind and rain storms which lashed several areas across the state last night, causing considerable damage to crops and buildings.

The downpour spelled at least temporary relief from the eight-day heat wave in western Pennsylvania, but continued warm weather was predicted in the east.

The storm's most spectacular thrust occurred in Towanda, Bradford county. A miniature twister lifted the roof from the large Myrna Lee hosiery mill six feet in the air and dropped it back in ruins, threatening scores of workers and forcing the plant to close down.

The twister leveled several trees in a narrow path through the borough, then dipped into the Susquehanna river, throwing up a spout 20 feet or more high.

Hail accompanied the rain and wind which swept Bucks county.

Residents of Wrightstwon reported hailstones nearly three inches in diameter beat crops to the ground.

Flushed by torrential rains, Newtown Creek rose nine feet within the first hour of a 5.29-hour storm, inundating the business section of Newtown and adjacent residential blocks. Acres of farm land were flooded near the village of Spring Lake. In other sections highways were flooded and telephone and light service interrupted.

Forty-six mile an hour gusts of wind, lightning and thunder were

NEGOTIATIONS WITH RAILROADS HIT DEADLOCK

Chicago, July 31—(AP)—Railroad management and labor negotiators rammed into a deadlock on revision of working rules, despaired of settling the issue among themselves and turned it over to the National Railway Mediation Board today.

They undertook, however, to negotiate a settlement of labor's demand for a multi-millionaire dollar pay increase for 1,150,000 workers.

The nation's Class 1 carriers hoped to effect economies in operating costs by altering working conditions and methods of establishing wages. When negotiations with organized labor started July 24, the managements insisted on disposal of this issue before taking up the wage question.

A deadlock was reached Tuesday

HOPKINS MAY GO TO FAR EAST

While London Reports President Roosevelt's Military Air Coordinator Will Return to States By Some Other Route, Further Conferences With Premier Stalin in Moscow Are Expected to Be Held During the Day

PROBLEMS OF SUPPLY ARE GIVEN ATTENTION

London, July 31—(AP)—Harry L. Hopkins, President Roosevelt's military air coordinator, now in Moscow discussing United States help for Russia, will return to the United States by some route other than London, it was reliably reported today, indicating that he might travel through the Far East. There has been some speculation that Hopkins might visit China. He has pledged both the Chungking and Moscow governments all possible, immediate aid.

Moscow, July 31—(AP)—Further conferences between Premier Joseph Stalin and Harry L. Hopkins, personal representative of President Roosevelt, were expected today—the 40th of the Russian-German war—as the Soviet army was reported battling the Nazi invaders to a standstill in vital sectors of the long battlefront.

Heavy fighting raged throughout the night, a communique said on the path of the German drives toward Leningrad, Moscow and Kiev.

Mention, however, of familiar place names which have appeared in Russian war bulletins for days—Porkhov, Novorzhev, Smolensk and Zhitomir—created the impression there had been no marked change in the fighting lines.

The Russians said they had beaten off three German attempts to bomb Leningrad by daylight yesterday and another attack on Moscow last night. They said their own air force was pounding German ground forces.

Large quantities of German equipment have been captured, the Russians declared, and the Nazis now "are showing lack of artillery and supplies."

Hopkins, who flew to Moscow from London Tuesday, was almost immediately granted an interview with the most important and most inaccessible man in Russia. He said he came to see Stalin at Roosevelt's request and he expected another meeting today and perhaps several more before he leaves.

Giving out one of the few public reports of an interview with Stalin, Hopkins said in a press conference at the U. S. embassy residence:

"We discussed problems of supply, including types and quantity of materials that can be delivered to the U. S. S. R. I cannot presently speak of the details or quantities.

"Stalin gave me a message to transmit to the president. He expressed his sincere appreciation to the president for his offer of assistance and declared he is certain the president and the American people are not mistaken in expressing their conviction that the Soviet people will play their role in crushing Hitler.

"We discussed at some length the situation here in relation to the war with Germany.

QUICK ACTION ON PRICE CONTROL BILLS EXPECTED

Senate and House Leaders Plan Identical Measures in Both Houses on Roosevelt's Request for Broad Regulatory Powers

OPPOSITION FORMING

BULLETIN

Washington, July 31—(AP)—What the head of the federal reserve board described as "everything on the inflation front" came up for discussion today at a White House conference on legislation to establish ceilings on prices and rents. Marriner S. Eccles, the reserve board chief, and Leon Henderson, price administrator, talked over the whole situation of prices and installment credit in a half hour conference with President Roosevelt. Afterward Eccles gave newspaper men his terse summary of the meeting and Henderson waved to them with a a document he said was a "copy of my bill" to control prices.

Washington, July 31—(AP)—Congressional leaders planned speedy action today on President Roosevelt's request for broad price-fixing powers to meet inflationary trends "threatening to undermine our defense effort."

Senate and House leaders said identical bills would be introduced in both Houses today.

Senate Majority Leader Barkley (D-Ky) acknowledged that there had been several last minute changes proposed in the measures, but like other congressional leaders and Leon Henderson, defense price administrator, he remained secretive about exact details.

Although President Roosevelt's message to congress yesterday evoked bi-partisan support in both Houses, it also aroused rumblings of vigorous opposition, especially from farm-minded lawmakers.

Senator Bankhead (D-Ala), who has sponsored many administration farm bills, bluntly announced that he would oppose any ceiling on cotton at less than 20 cents a pound.

ANOTHER FEE ALLOWED IN BLACK TOM CASE

Philadelphia, July 31—(AP)—Another million-dollar fee in the Black Tom lawsuit has been granted to Amos J. Peasley, the Clarksboro, N. J., attorney who once sold shares in his interest in the case for one fiftieth of their face value.

Peasley proved German saboteurs blew up the Black Tom terminal of the Lehigh Valley Railroad at Hoboken, N. J., in 1916, and won a verdict of $10,000,000 for the railroad from the German government.

His share figures out to $4,899,855.72. He was allowed the first $1,000,000 of this fee a month ago and yesterday's decision of Federal District Court brought the sum paid him to $2,000,000.

New York, July 31—(AP)—A mystery of the sea was disclosed today when Swedish government officials at Stockholm ruled officially that the cargo-passenger liner Venezuela must be regarded as lost with eight passengers and 41 crew members.

The ruling closed a two months' investigation instituted after the new 6,991-ton vessel vanished on a voyage from Gothenburg to Rio de Janeiro.

Nothing could be learned about the ship. Belligerents denied sinking her, no wreckage was found and no storms ruffled the north Atlantic during the period of the voyage.

The vessel left Gothenburg April 8 with a "safe conduct" guarantee

MINISTER EXTENDS REGRETS

Fresh Strain on Relations Between Washington and Tokyo Over Shelling of Tutuila at Chungking, China, Relieved When Vice Admiral Teijiro Toyoda Deprecates Incident in Talk With Ambassador

LINER TATUTA MARU IN SAN FRANCISCO PORT

BULLETIN

Washington, July 31—(AP)—Sumner Welles, acting secretary of state, said today Japanese apologies for the bombing of the U. S. gunboat Tutuila in China were insufficient to close the incident. This government, he said, awaits a more complete reply from Japan to the American representations made here and in Tokyo. Welles said that immediately upon being informed of the incident at Chungking yesterday morning, a representative of the Japanese government called at the embassy in Tokyo and expressed deep regrets.

By MAX HILL

Tokyo, July 31.—(By telephone to New York)—(AP)—Foreign Minister Vice Admiral Teijiro Toyoda offered apologies and expressed regret today to United States Ambassador Joseph C. Grew for the bombing of the United States gunboat Tutuila at Chungking, China.

Grew and Toyoda talked at the foreign office for 20 minutes.

The chief aide of the Japanese navy ministry also visited the American naval attache, Commander Henri Smith-Hutton, to express his regrets.

The apologies and regret over the bombing, which occurred yesterday, were offered before the American envoy was able to make the representations he had been instructed to make by Washington.

Before Ambassador Grew could go to the foreign office this morning, Vice Foreign Minister Kumaichi Yamamoto called at the American embassy.

BROOKLYN NAVY YARD WORKERS ARE EXEMPTED

Striking AFL Electrical Employes Announce They Will Go Back to Jobs as O. P. M. in Washington Had Requested

VIOLENCE FLARES UP

By the Associated Press

Striking AFL electrical workers today exempted a $70,000,000 expansion program at the Brooklyn navy yard from their walkout and announced they would go back to work immediately as the Office of Production Management in Washington asked them to do.

The city-wide strike would continue on other construction projects, union officials said.

That walkout and a strike of the CIO-Steel Workers Organizing Committee at the Timken Roller Bearing Company plant at Columbus, Ohio, were the principal strike controversies dotting the national scene.

Outside the defense field, there was violence in the New York city dispute. An ironworker suffered cuts on the face and head, but refused medical treatment, after eight men assaulted him at the picket line of the Edison Company's new powerhouse. He tried to cross the line.

Declaring That "Voluntary Rationing to Date Has Not Achieved Results," Petroleum Coordinator Issues Rigid Appeal

OTHER STEPS MAY COME

Washington, July 31—(AP)—In a move toward compulsory restriction on the use of gasoline, Secretary of Interior Ickes today called upon the oil industry to close 100,000 service stations in the eastern states from 7 p. m. to 7 a. m. seven days a week, effective Aug. 3.

The closing would affect all gasoline retail stations on the Atlantic Seaboard from Maine to Florida.

Declaring that "voluntary rationing to date has not achieved the reduction which must be accomplished if we are to avoid a more serious situation later," Ickes spoke of the possibility of more serious rationing, including issuance of ration cards.

"Unless this first action achieves results, it must be followed by other steps to accomplish our end," said the secretary, who is defense petroleum coordinator.

The recommendation for closing of service stations during night hours would be applicable "throughout the states of Maine, New Hampshire, Vermont, Massachusetts, Connecticut, Rhode Island, New Jersey, Delaware, Maryland N. Carolina, S. Carolina, Georgia, the peninsula of Florida, Dis-

This is Pay-Day for Boys at Indiantown

BY F. L. FITZPATRICK

Indiantown Gap, July 31—(AP)—This is pay-day for the nearly 18,000 officers and troops of the 28th Division in training at this military reservation, and the approximately $800,000 July payroll now being disbursed is the largest here to date.

The rise of about $100,000 in the payroll from June to July was due chiefly, to the tremendous increase of the constantly growing personnel.

During the past month some 3,800 Selectees went on the payroll here, and there were a number of promotions that affected the salary lists greatly.

The 28th Division's baseball squad of 17 players—armed with advice from Honus Wagner, Pittsburgh Pirates' coach, who visited this reservation yesterday afternoon, leaves tomorrow morning for Fort du Pont, Del., for "baseball maneuvers."

Echo of Austin Flood Heard In Opening of Bids for the Mill

Austin, July 31.—(AP)—Residents of this Potter county village, which is on the verge of becoming a "ghost town," kept their fingers crossed today for they saw a chance Austin might regain a prosperity that was swept away 30 years ago on the crest of a disastrous flood.

By evening they will know whether the Bayless Pulp and Paper Corporation mill, whose dam broke 30 years ago and caused a flood that ravaged Austin and took 80 lives, will be operated again or dismantled. The town was rebuilt after the flood but the mill, in receivership since 1933, closed its doors last September.

Judge Robert R. Lewis of Coudersport, who has sought to solve the problems of the firm and save it for the town, has finally approved its sale. The bids will be opened late today. The factory, last industry here of any size, once employed 300 on an annual payroll of $300,000.

The 800 inhabitants, one-fourth of the hey-day population in 1910, hope the purchaser will start the mill wheels turning again. It was disclosed that careful consideration would be given to a bid to operate the plant even if it is lower than a bid received to dismantle the mill.

Willkie Spurns Thomas Debate

(From Page One)

Mayor George M. Bonham, of Willkie's home town, Elwood, yesterday telegraphed invitations to "the leaders of the two minority parties" to discuss U. S. foreign policy at an "anti-war" rally Sunday in Callaway Park, scene of Willkie's formal notification of his nomination last August.

The Keep America Out of War Congress announced in New York that Thomas had accepted the invitation.

Said Willkie, who is spending a week at the home of his mother-in-law, Mrs. Cora Wilk:

"I have stated my position on the foreign policy of the United States many times.

"There are no war issues in the United States today. Everybody would like to have us stay at peace, but we will not stay at peace merely because we wish to do so.

"Our best hope of achieving peace is by helping to the limit those nations that are doing their utmost to stop Naziism, which seeks to dominate the world. No man, however, can insure peace to America."

among Japan's best. They described them as ready for action, if necessary, and not for exhibition only.

With a program worked out in fine detail, the Japanese moved precisely into their recently acquired naval and air bases, the army, navy and air force collaborating in methodical manner.

They have brought in their own tents, trucks, fuel, food and a wide variety of other equipment.

Along a French-police route, a three-hour parade of Japanese trucks loaded with troops and equipment moved from the dock area, where the men arrived in transports yesterday, to three stations whose exact locations were kept a military secret.

in conferences with delegates of the 14 non-operating unions and last night with those of the big five operating brotherhoods.

Management said it sought more authority in work assignments. F. C. Gurley, chairman of the carriers' conference committee, said existing rules sometimes required roads to pay employes for work they did not do and to pay claims for wages after a lapse of seven years.

Union spokesmen contended the proposed revision would place their men "completely at the mercy of the known and unpredictable demands of management" and if accepted by the employes "would repudiate the publicly acclaimed benefits achieved under the railway labor act."

At Torshavn, Faroes Islands, the Venezuela picked up eight survivors of the Finnnish freighter Carolina Thorden, which had been destroyed by German bombers a few days earlier.

The Venezuela sailed for Rio April 14 and radioed April 17 that she would reach South America on May 2.

Nothing more ever was heard of her.

Owners of the vessel, one of the fastest and most modern in the world, have checked every possible source for survivors. None has been found.

White Hill Boys Slug Guard and Escape

Charles M. Baker, Jr., (left), guard at the new White Hill Industrial School for Boys, and Dr. M. Wilson, White Hill physician, examine a piece of pipe with which Baker was struck on the head by two boys who escaped from the institution. The boys were identified as Waverly L. Browder, 20, and George Clark, 19, both of the Philadelphia district.

White Hill, July 31—(AP)—Major Henry C. Hill, superintendent of the new Pennsylvania Industrial School, expressed confidence today two youthful prisoners who escaped Monday night would be apprehended, despite the lack of new clues. Hill said Waverley Browder, 20, and George Clark, 19, the escaped prisoners, in all probability would be charged with assault with intent to kill a guard, Charles L. Baker, who was slugged on the head, and with larceny of an automobile. Baker was discharged from the school hospital yesterday. He was struck by an iron stake.

STRIKE THREATENED

An A. F. of L. union has disclosed it has threatened a walkout Monday at Smethport plant of the Quaker State Oil Refining Company unless wage demands are met. J. C. Wiedmann, international representative of the Brotherhoods of Firemen, Oiler and Refinery Workers, said the union seeks a flat raise of 15 cents an hour for all affected employes and "a livable wage beyond 55 cents per hour" for wax house employes.

SWISS INDEPENDENCE

Radio brings America a reminder tonight that at least one small part of Europe is still at peace: Switzerland. It is the 650th anniversary of Swiss independence. On the lake shore at the little town of Rutli, in the Schwyz mountains, citizens of Europe's oldest democracy will renew their oath of freedom and relight the traditional fire of independence. CBS has scheduled a description of the ceremonies for 5 p. m. and NBC-blue for 7 p. m.

KILLED ON CURVE

A Washington, D. C., man was killed and his wife injured late yesterday when their automobile rolled over five times after leaving the Lakes to Sea highway on a curve near DuBois. George V. Martin, 68, was killed and Mrs. Martin, who was thrown clear, suffered a broken rib. The couple had planned to visit Martin's brother, Attorney Gervas Martin, in Franklin. Their son, Dr. George V. Martin Jr. is an assistant chief surgeon at the Indiantown Gap military hospital.

PATROL STRIKE AREA

State motor police were on hand today to assist Sheriff George Calhoun by patrolling the vicinity of the plant of the Holgate Brothers Company at Kane where a strike was called Saturday by the CIO-United Paper Novelty and Toy Workers Union. Major Jacob Mauk, of the Greensburg state police barracks, said he did not expect "serious trouble" but that help had been asked by the sheriff. The union seeks wage increases and a closed shop. Calhoun said pickets yesterday halted a light truck near the plant and turned the machine around in the opposite direction.

I wish to announce myself as a candidate for the office of District Attorney, subject to the decision of the Republican voters at the Primaries, Sept. 9, 1941.

TOYS AND THE WAR

Toymakers, preparing for the Christmas season, report a growing demand for war games in which trade there has been a big lull since World War No. 1.

Just as papa and mama are showing more interest in Stukas and Spitfires, panzer divisions and Garand rifles, U-boats and convoys, so are little Jimmy and Mary demanding fighter planes, tanks and Red Cross ambulances, manufacturers say.

"There has been no wild clamor for war toys," an official of one of the nation's largest toy concerns, in Pittsburgh, is quoted as explaining, "but there is a definite increased demand and we have taken steps to meet it.

"For instance, we have developed a battleship, and aircraft carrier and a submarine since the war started."

Asked if parents appeared to be trying to discourage their children's interest in warlike weapons, the manufacturer said he did not believe that factor influenced the market any way.

"Children decide what they want to play with and if the parents show reluctance to buy the toys they want, the kids just put 'the heat' on them," he explains.

YUM! YUM

(From the Valley Daily News, Tarentum)

For the fellow who enjoys his meals—and how blessed is he—the golden days of the year are about to dawn. For, corn is ripening in the field and tomatoes are growing a ruddy red under the burning rays of the sun. Soon those succulent roasting ears will be adorning the center of the table flanked with thick slices of beefsteak tomatoes. What a feast for a king.

Weather conditions have been ideal, and, farmers tell us, the corn and tomato crops are going to be excellent. Prices are a bit high today but they'll slump one of these days when the supply going to market becomes greater.

So, enjoy your roasting ears and tomatoes at every opportunity. The season is short at best. And, as you eat be thankful you live in a land where such delicacies are available. Just remember that in many lands of Europe the people are getting just enough of the plainest food to keep soul and body together. Such meals as you sit down to every day would be banquets to them.

THE PEOPLE—YOU SAID IT

When a man reaches the age of a U. S. district judge, people usually permit him the privileges of looking down a lean nose at the modern world and the modern people in it, and musing that neither is as good as they used to be.

Judge George A. Welsh of Philadelphia took himself a 600-mile bicycle trip (at a cost of $30) this summer, and he met and talked to a lot of people. Just ordinary people, Americans. He came back reassured.

He found out that the people are all right. They haven't changed. At heart they are the same people with whom the judge grew up years ago. The changes are all on the surface. You can trust these people, the judge concluded.

Lincoln liked them, and trusted them, and allowed that there is no better hope in the world. Carl Sandburg felt that way when he wrote "The People—Yes!" Now Judge Welsh echoes both, with a resounding "The People—You Said It!"

The entire area will receive wide publicity through the new table place mat now being used at the Geracimos Co. store in Liberty street. It is a map of Warren and vicinity, drawn by Elton Davis, local artist, and should be very attractive for tourist use. All points of interest in the county are listed from the Cornplanter reservation to the observatory at Hearts Content. As a matter of fact, one must study the mat to enjoy a real appreciation of it. Congratulations, Geracimos Co., for an enterprising promotion scheme.

Many in Warren are discovering that one way to find out how it feels to be a stuffed olive is to go on a picnic.

This is the season of the year when the mails are jammed with those "Having-a-good-time-wish-you-were-here" cards.

Shake-Up

• EDSON'S WASHINGTON COLUMN

BY PETER EDSON
Times-Mirror Correspondent
Correspondent

Washington, July 31—There is so much big news from Washington these days that a lot of the little news doesn't get printed. This is as it should be in an age of priorities—first things first.

But if you believe the old ungrammatical saw that "it's the little insignificant things that count" you should know that Congress, even though it meets only two or three afternoons a week, still has time for some of these little drops of water and little grains of sand that make the mighty oceans we have determined to keep free, as well as the beautiful land that we won't allow Hitler or his minions to set foot on.

You probably didn't hear, for instance, that the House of Representatives passed a law the other day which makes it a federal offense to steal chickens if you take 'em across state lines.

The good statesmen didn't intend to pass the law that way in the first place, but it happened that there was a bill (S. 1261) providing for the punishment of persons transporting stolen cattle in interstate commerce, and for other purposes. It was "for other purposes" that left the door open for the chickens to walk in.

The bill was very specific about defining cattle as "one or more bulls, steers, oxen, cows, heifers or calves, or the carcasses of one or more bulls, steers, oxen, cows, heifers or calves." No chances of making a mistake on that, and the penalty called for not more than $5000 or five years.

The committee which had this measure in charge, however, decided that the coverage wasn't broad enough, so they put through an amendment which defined cattle as "one or more bulls, steers, oxen, cows, heifers, calves, sheep, hogs or horses."

The amendment got by the committee that way although you'd think that even congressmen would know that sheep, hogs and horses were hardly cattle. There was one congressman smart enough to catch that, and it was none other than Jesse P. Wolcott, of Port Huron, Mich. So Congressman got up and made 'em change the law. Had 'em strike out the word "cattle" because he had looked it up in the dictionary and found cattle were bovine animals, and bovine animals were horned animals such as sheep, goats and buffalo. Furthermore, said Jesse, hogs didn't have horns, though he didn't specify whether he looked this up in the dictionary or was just relying on memory.

Anyway, Jesse's real purpose was to include chickens because the chicken stealing business was as bad as the bovine stealing business, so he proposed changing the bill to read "animals or fowl" and to include "ducks, geese, turkeys and so forth.

Francis Case, of Custer, S. D., made a few remarks in support of this idea. And while Francis E. Walter, of Easton, Pa., said he thought the word "cattle" covered all animals, and while Earl C. Michener, of Adrian, Mich., warned that the measure would put J. Edgar Hoover's G-men in the interstate chicken-thief-catching business and make the FBI double its force;—the bill was ordered to be engrossed and read a third time, was read a third time, and passed.

P. S. Similar legislation has been vetoed by the president twice before.

Danzig Under German Rule for Third Time

DANZIG, that beautiful city at the mouth of the Vistula river in the old Polish Corridor, has had a stormy history.

Three times it has fallen under German rule. On Sept. 1, 1939, Nazi legions pushed into Poland, made Danzig a part of the Reich.

This stamp, one of the winter help series of 1935, shows the Danzig stock exchange building. Under the Treaty of Versailles, Danzig became a free city, flew its own flag, made its own laws, maintained an army and issued its own money and stamps. All that ended when Germany took over.

The city was founded by Germans at the beginning of the 13th century. Polish Pomeranian dukes ruled until 1308. The Teutonic knights assumed control and governed until 1454.

From 1454 to 1793 the city was associated in a personal union with the kings of Poland.

In 1807, Danzig became a free city for the first time under French sponsorship. With the collapse of the Napoleonic regime, Danzig returned to Prussia, thus remained until the Treaty of Versailles.

A Washington Daybook

By JACK STINNETT

WASHINGTON—You have heard what most of the big cities, especially New York, are doing about civilian defense, but I want to tell you about a fair-sized chunk of the "hinterlands" that took matters into its own hands and now has the jump on a lot of the metropolitan areas—including Washington.

I got this straight from Julian Capers, Jr., of Longview, Tex., who has had a hand in it all.

Almost as soon as civilian defense was mentioned, the East Texas Chamber of Commerce, which embraces 70 counties and better than 3,000,000 people, appointed a national defense committee, headed by Jess A. McGill, a Scot from Paris, Tex. The committee notified Washington they were ready and waiting. And what happened? Nothing.

As Capers puts it, "We got a little weary of waiting for some one in Washington to get down to brass tacks and outline a plan for organizing civilian sentiment and support. So the committee took the bull by the horns."

Three members of the committee were put in the field with instructions to organize "County Councils for National Defense," in every one of those 70 counties. It wasn't any slap-hazard idea either. They had a plan. They called meetings and at each, practically on demand if that's what it took, were the county judge, the mayors of the important cities and towns and leaders of ex-service organizations, labor groups, the schools, women's clubs, and prominent farmers. And when the meeting was over, those folks found they were the "county council for national defense."

Keep The Field Clear

THROUGH McGill's committee, these councils were and are now being apprized of every phase of civilian defense. They are clearing houses for all authentic information, thus keeping the field clear of all bogus fund collectors, unfounded rumors and national defense racketeers. They are quickly informed of every new law, regulation, restriction and priority that issues from here and maintain information services to pass these along to the public.

When the United Service Organizations drive started, they were weeks ahead of many communities. When the call went out for the collection of aluminum, the councils were ready and waiting and putting it over caused no more organizational fuss than passing the plate in church on Sunday.

The county councils also took over aid to the defense savings bond and stamp sales. I checked the Treasury on that and was told that East Texas is doing "right well" which certainly is a Texas way of saying, "They ain't ailing, Brother."

Train Their Speakers

THE county councils have had a lot of support from their newspapers, but have augmented that with speakers' bureaus of from 20 to 40 persons in each county and now are conducting speakers' training schools.

To top it off, and test their wings, they recently held an "East Texas National Defense Day," with 400 mass meetings throughout 70 counties, attended by nearly a half-million persons.

Among the "tangible" results, I'll let Capers tell you of one: "While hundreds of millions of national defense contracts—including production of oil and refinery products, shipbuilding, airplane, shell, munitions, army clothing and equipment manufacture—are being carried out in Texas, there has not been a strike or labor difficulty there since defense started."

East Texas isn't the only locality where this sort of thing is going on. There are others. I just thought I'd mention it and tell the Civilian Defense Chief LaGuardia that when he starts passing out bouquets for civilian defense efforts, he'll do well to toss a few beyond the big-city limits.

The Missionary Circle of the W. S. C. S. of the Methodist church met with Mrs. Stella Cowles for a silver tea on Thursday afternoon.

The leader, Mrs. Ellen Mahan, read the scripture and Rev. Naylor of Russell led in prayer. The roll call was responded to by each member repeating a bible verse commencing with the letter "F".

Mrs. Mahan then introduced Rev. Naylor, who gave an interesting message. Miss Marjorie Randell, of Russell, gave several selections on the harp. Out of town guests were: Mrs. Lois Larson and daughter Carrol, of Long Beach, Cal., and Mrs. Grace Peterson, of Warren. Lunch was served by the hostess and a committee.

Mr. and Mrs. Eli Wiggins, of Mt. Jackson, Pa., were recent callers on friends here.

Recent guests of Mr. and Mrs. Steven Hitchcock were Mrs. Grace Peterson, Miss Joyce Peterson and Wendell Peterson, of Warren.

Word has been received here by friends of the death of Benjamin Raymond, of Sharon Springs, Kansas. Mr. Raymond will be remembered here as the husband of Mrs. Clara Wilcox Raymond, formerly of this place.

The Hill and Dale Garden Club was entertained by Mrs. Winnie Hill at her home on Wednesday afternoon. The assisting hostesses were Mrs. Clara Burgett, Mrs. Mabel Lindell and Mrs. Ellen Mahan. The president, Mrs. Floy McIntire, was in charge of the meeting. Bundles for Britain committee reported receipts of $33 from the sale at the flower show and luncheon, which was sent to buy medical supplies for bombed hospitals. The program consisted of the study book being presented by Mrs. Sarah Scott. The chapter dealt with flower arrangements.

The committee then put on Mock wedding, which proved an amusing affair. The August meeting will be an out-of-door picnic. The transportation committee to decide on the location.

New "Jewelry" May Seem Odd at First, but IT GROWS ON YOU

ONE of the queerest of the tropical oddities found in the Miami area is the "Leaf of Life." Absorbing its nourishment from the air, it needs no water or earth on which to thrive. Each leaf sprouts smaller ones within a week. Comely Ora Bridges, left, wears a growing "Leaf of Life" as a decoration on her sweater. To the left of it for contrast a leaf is shown before sprouting.

BESHLIN DRAWS FIRST POSITION ON GOP BALLOT

First place on the Republican ballot in the contest for the judgeship of Warren and Forest counties went to Attorney E. H. Beshlin, who filed nomination petitions on both the Republican and Democratic tickets, it was learned today.

The drawing for place was held in the office of the secretary of the commonwealth in Harrisburg yesterday.

Second place on the Republican ballot went to former District Attorney LeRoy C. Eddy, while last position was drawn by Attorney Allison D. Wade.

Attorney Beshlin previously had announced his candidacy on the Democratic ticket, but prior to the drawing, it was not generally known here that he had filed a petition on the Republican ticket.

The judgeship is the only office for which a candidate may run on the primary ballot of more than one party.

In Warren borough, where the principal contests are for council on the Republican ticket, drawings were held at the court house Monday. In the first ward, top position for council was won by William E. Rice, with David B. DeForest second. In the fifth ward, Councilman Harold S. Hampson is first and Ruel M. Forbes second.

The only other borough contest is for Republican judge of election in the second ward, with P. H. Colt taking first place and Ray C. Pickett second.

William E. Gibbs, East Orange, N. J., invented the tire valve now used on every automobile and bicycle.

I'VE REALLY GOT SOMETHING HERE

Last Wednesday The Motor Lighthouse Corporation turned over to my care and operation their Market Street TEXACO Station. I undertook this assignment in the belief it offered an opportunity and I've already been at it long enough to realize that, with TEXACO Products and the convenience of this location, my job is to show that I can give the kind of service to be expected in every good TEXACO Station.

Those who know me, I hope, will be confident of my ability on that score. To them and to the many others who will appreciate the convenience of a real TEXACO Station in this location, I extend a sincere invitation to drop in for a demonstration of my brand of "Circle Service" and the facilities I have to offer. Incidentally, while my supply lasts, I have a very nice little gift for each new visitor. It will appeal particularly to the kids.

APPLICANTS FOR RELIEF IN PA. TO SIGN PLEDGE

Applicants for relief in Warren county, as well as those throughout Pennsylvania, will be required in the future to sign a statement testifying to their patriotism, it was announced today by Secretary of Assistance Howard L. Russell.

The new step in procedure will be taken shortly to carry out the provisions of a new law barring from the public relief rolls any persons advocating overthrow of the government by force.

County assistance boards will be requested soon to include the new standards in their eligibility forms, after the state assistance board approves the wording.

The act is one of three passed by the 1941 legislature to curb subversive activities. The other two bar those with un-American doctrines from the public payroll and from the ballot.

Russell's department is the first to act on the three-point program.

The relief head pointed out that the county boards cannot act against persons who may have committed in the past any overt act which could be construed as subervise. The law, said Russell, plainly restricts the prohibition to such acts committed "hereafter," meaning after the effective date of the act, which was July 28.

BY WILLIAM E. McKENNEY

I only hope every bridge player in the United States will some day have the privilege of visiting Salt Lake City. Never before have I met so many people with such nice dispositions. In Mrs. George B. Corey's Bridge Club in the Utah Hotel they play bridge just as hard as any place else, but I believe there is less argument over bridge in Salt Lake City than any place I have been.

For example, there was plenty of room for argument on today's hand. North won the opening lead with the king of hearts and led the deuce of diamonds. Declarer ruffed. East laid down the king of clubs.

South pounced on it with the ace and led a low diamond, again forcing East. The ten of clubs then brought out South's queen, and South led a third diamond. That gave declarer his contract, as he was able to take out trumps, ending in dummy, and cash the clubs.

North might have blamed South for the persistent diamond leads, pointing out correctly that a second heart lead by South would have killed dummy and set the contract at once.

West might have blamed his partner for taking out the double of four diamonds. Indeed, there was some discussion as to whether this contract can be made. What do you think about it?

Without Painful Backache

Many sufferers relieve nagging backache quickly, once they discover that the real cause of their trouble may be tired kidneys.

The kidneys are Nature's chief way of taking the excess acids and waste out of the blood. They help most people pass about 3 pints a day.

When disorder of kidney function permits poisonous matter to remain in your blood, it may cause nagging backache, rheumatic pains, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness. Frequent or scanty passages with smarting and burning sometimes shows there is something wrong with your kidneys or bladder.

Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, used successfully by millions for over 40 years. They give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from your blood. Get Doan's Pills.

LOCAL KIWANIS OFFICERS NAMED TO FILL TERMS

At the weekly luncheon meeting of the Warren Kiwanis Club, held yesterday noon at the Carver Hotel, Henry C. Ledebur was elected second vice president and Dr. R. L. Young was named treasurer for the balance of the year.

Both will fill vacancies, the former caused by the advancement of the former first vice president, Harold D. Baker, to the presidency due to the transfer of Charles H. Lindberg to Harrisburg, and the rise of Dr. T. E. Colley from second to first vice president; and the latter caused by the resignation of the former treasurer, W. L. McClure.

The report of the budget committee was presented by Mr. Ledebur.

Announcement was made by President Baker of the Pennsylvania district convention at Pittsburgh, starting September 21, and the divisional picnic, to be held at Conneaut Lake, August 6.

Guests at the luncheon included Morris L. Quick, of Jamestown, N. Y.; E. J. Parkins, of Malone, N. Y.; Charles W. Schaffer, of Chester; Captain A. Oakes, of Monessen; W. S. Hoskins, of Fort Pierce, Fla., and Private Edwin S. Africa, who is home on furlough from Camp Stewart, Ga.

MADE UP TO KILL

by Kelley Roos

YESTERDAY: The opening night of "Green Apples" is done, and it was hectic. First Carol lost her voice, and an understudy was ready to go on. Then the voice came back, and the understudy left in a huff. Then the curtain went down to great applause, and Haila entered the dressing room she shared with Carol—and found her looking haggard, beaten, ill.

Chapter Four

Tangled Threads

WITH a forced brightness Carol said: "I'm all right, Haila. Just done in. I'm going straight up to the apartment and crawl in bed."

"I'd better go with you."

"No, really, Haila. All I need is some sleep and I'll be fine in the morning."

She seemed to mean it and I was anxious to go with Jeff, so I let her win without further argument. We both set to work on our faces in earnest. Through the wall that separated our room from Eve's came the hum of many voices. Outside I heard Jeff telling someone sadly: "I'm sorry, but Miss Rogers can't see anyone. She was attacked about the eyes by a swarm of bees."

Above the hubbub in her room, Eve's voice rose. It was sharp and soft at the same time, the tone one uses to reprimand a child.

"Philip, darling, haven't you had enough acting for one evening? I'm sure all these people have had their money's worth."

"You have the whole play to yourself." Ashley's voice was livid and I was glad I couldn't see his face. "Is it absolutely necessary for you to steal my only scene?"

Eve laughed. "Dear Philip, I have no idea what you're talking about. Really, I haven't."

Jeff slipped into our room, a grin stretching across his face. He jerked his thumb toward the wall and sat close to it where he wouldn't miss a thing.

Ashley was saying: "You know perfectly well. You stood at that table and rattled silver, you rattled glassware all during my long scene. Why didn't you overturn the table, Eve? It would have been much more effective."

"Oh, that!" Eve's words had a dismissing shrug in them. "That was Tom Neilson's fault, or the little Thompson girl's. I'm supposed to arrange flowers during your speech, and where were they? Was I to stand there like a mummy while you droned through your lines?"

"It's customary to be quiet while another actor is speaking." Ashley said acidly. "They teach that at dramatic school."

"Philip, dear Philip, you must read the script one day. I'm not supposed to be interested, even listening while you make that endless speech of yours. Philip never reads a script, you know, just his part." There was a roar from Eve's audience while Ashley said something that ended in hell and was punctuated by a slamming door.

"It's over," Jeff said sadly. "Eve by a technical knockout."

I bunched my purse and gloves together and took Jeff by the arm. "C'mon, Jeff. I've had enough of actors for one day." The moment I said it I could have bitten out my tongue for I had forgotten that Carol was still there. But she hadn't heard me.

"Haila," she said as we reached the door, "may I take your key? I guess I must have left mine in my blue purse."

"Of course." I fished through my pocketbook for it and tossed it to her. "Put it on the ridge over the door. Jeff and I may be late. You're sure you'll be all right?"

"Sure. I will. Go on, you two, have fun."

After the sticky warmth of backstage the night outside seemed bitter cold. A few snowflakes fluttered down and lost themselves on the pavement and the Forty-fourth Street wind whisked up stray programs and whirled them toward Broadway.

"What'll we do, Jeff?"

Waiting For Fate

HE laughed at me. There was really no question of what we would do; we had an old opening night custom. We would tramp all over town biting fingernails and chafing at bits until the reviews appeared at daybreak.

Then, if the notices were bad, Jeff's shoulder would be handy to weep on and together we could curse the critics for their illiteracy and lack of taste. If they were good there would be one more drink to toast them as gentlemen and scholars. It was fine for me, I could sleep all the next day; it was Jeff who took the beating. I asked my usual next question.

"What about work tomorrow, Jeff?"

"I'm on my vacation."

"Vacation!" That wasn't part of the routine. "When did this happen?"

"Today at noon. 'Want to take a two weeks' vacation, Troy?' . . . 'Anything to accommodate you, sir.' . . ."

"Jeff," I said, trying my darnedest to mean it, "you really should get away. Why don't you go to Florida for two weeks?"

"I've never been to Florida."

"Well?"

"I don't want to break my record."

It was early and the smoke at Ralph's was still thin enough for us to find a table. Teddy Hart, whom Jeff considered America's greatest actor since W. C. Fields gave us his career to go into the movies, was at the bar, and Jeff beamed at the sight of him. Jeff ordered Scotch and soda and I went overboard with a Cuba Libra minus the rum.

"Or I might get married." Jeff said, picking up the conversation we had dropped on Eight Avenue.

"To me?"

"It's time we broke up our friendship."

"Let's."

"I've never been married. Do you know anybody in New York who's married? We could find out about it."

"My father and mother were married."

"And look what happened to them. You." He took somebody else's stray arm off the back of his chair and moved closer to me. "Look, Haila, I love you."

"I love you too, Jeff."

"If only I could save some money!"

"Jeff, if the critics come through, I'll be making money for a while. Green Apples might run a year."

"No. We've been through that. I'll have to pick up some more money somehow."

"I'd marry you," I suggested modestly, "if you were only making five dollars and fifty cents a week."

It looked for a second as though I was going to get kissed, but Tommy Neilson broke things up by popping down at our table and losing no time getting tight. He ordered straight rye with a beer chaser and downed both in morose silence. After grunting hello he refused to open his mouth except to fill it.

"Tommy's quite a conversationalist." I explained to Jeff.

"What is there to talk about?" Tommy challenged me.

"Conditions." Jeff said.

"People talk too damn much."

Success?

TOMMY beckoned the waiter and duplicated his order. Jeff and I tried to ignore him but the blanket was too wet. We were about to make our escape when Phoebe Thompson joined our merry group. She took one look at Tommy and wagged her head. "I see we're off to a big evening."

"Oh, I don't blame him," I sympathized. "It's been a tough show. Tommy's worn out."

"It's been a lousy show. The whole damn thing stinks."

Phoebe smiled tolerantly at him. "Nasty, nasty old play! Going to be a hit."

"It stinks. I wish I'd had sense enough to stay out of it. I've been in the theater long enough to know better than to get tangled up in a Clint Bowers production. All of 'em stink."

Phoebe's bright face shadowed. "There's nothing wrong with Clint Bowers' productions. You're drunk."

"I'm not down on Clint. I'm tired. I don't like Green Apples. Never have. It was a lousy script when I first read it and it still is. Production hasn't helped it any. An ingénue who loses her voice on opening night. An understudy who walks out. The Eve North-Philip Ashley feud. It's a mess, the whole thing's a mess. Even the scenery's painted badly."

Jeff blinked. "I find myself becoming fascinated. Who lost whose voice? Who walked out? Who is feuding with who?"

I told him then, starting with the case of the missing understudy. Tommy went painstakingly on with his drinking career while I talked. Once he came out of it to mutter, "Yeah, tell him about Carol, the little . . ." I missed the noun but I didn't ask for it again.

Jeff took a long drag on his cigarette and stood up. "I'm beginning to be frightened by actors. Let's get out of here."

It was only twelve-thirty. We had long hours to kill before the first morning editions appeared on the street. Jeff suggested the inevitable, a movie. On Forty-second Street we managed to find a double feature that only one of us had seen half of.

Jeff awakened me by removing his shoulder from under my head. "Is this where we came in?" I asked.

"I can't remember back that far. Let's get out of here and see what day it is."

Times Square had settled down for its short nap before the sun rose. We walked down Seventh Avenue to the Metropolitan and read all the three sheets. We managed to put all of fifteen minutes more behind us by wandering down to Pennsylvania Station. Finally, Jeff decided we should take a ride and he pushed me into a taxi.

When the meter hit the two dollar mark we got out. We were on Broadway and a hundred and something so we took a subway back to Times Square. The papers were out when we climbed the stairs into the Times Building. We bought them all and lugged them to a restaurant.

On the whole they were enthusiastic. There were nice things about Greely Morris' dialogue and about Clint Bowers' direction. Steve and Ashley and old Ben Kerry were favorably mentioned. I had a few sweet remarks passed about me here and there. But the orchids went to Carol. She was hailed as a discovery, her notices alone would insure the play a run. Green Apples was a hit and we had all scored personal successes. All, that is, except Eve North.

Poor Eve. "Despite a faltering performance by Miss North," was the way the Times ran, and one of the tabloids reported: "The old gray mare ain't what she used to be, which is young, but she won't admit it." The Herald Tribune was cruel in its kindness. Its only mention of Eve was a flattering description of her second act gown.

Redbirds Take Three Game Lead Over Brooklyn Dodgers

Braves Nip Pirates As Redlegs Triumph; Tribe, Feller Lose

BY JUDSON BAILEY
Associated Press Sports Writer

The St. Louis Cardinals have the class that distinguishes a champion and barring a miracle—or a catastrophe—they are likely to proceed to the National League pennant.

They have plenty of pitching, fine fielding and marvelous power—eight hitters batting over .300 and one who was .299 in the last official averages. But most of all they have the stamina and courage that is required to come from behind and win close games—the battles that count.

This was the way they beat Brooklyn yesterday, 6-4, to take a three-game lead over the Dodgers in their torrid pennant tussle. The Dodgers scored a run in the first and then were held to one scratch hit for the next five frames, while the Redbirds pulled into a 3-1 lead.

The Dodgers got a run back in the seventh through an error and in the eighth Pete Reiser hit a home run with one on to put Brooklyn in front 4-3.

This only caused the Cardinals to strive harder and they immediately rinned off three runs in their half of the eighth to sew up the game.

Discounting Tuesday's tie this was the fourth straight victory for St. Louis over the Dodgers.

MAJORS CONTRIBUTE

Chicago, July 31—(AP)—The major leagues today presented the United Service Organizations with a check for $53,226.27, representing the net profit on the All-Star baseball game in Detroit July 8.

It was credited to Lefty Ernie White.

The Pittsburgh Pirates yielded third place to Cincinnati again by dropping a 3-2 ten-inning verdict to the Boston Braves while the Reds were pelting the New York Giants 9-0. Bucky Walters acquired his 13th triumph in the latter affair.

At Pittsburgh Jim Tobin, former Pirate, allowed only one hit till the seventh and six altogether. He himself hit a double in the fifth to drive in Boston's only run in the first nine innings. In the tenth Buddy Hassett's fly was misjudged for a triple and two singles brought Boston two runs, enough to withstand a one-run Pirate counter-attack.

The Phillies and Chicago Cubs split a doubleheader. A six-run fifth inning gave the Phils the first session 8-4. Chicago captured the nightcap 5-3 and Tot Pressnell pitched three-hit ball in six innings of relief.

In the American League Washington beat the Cleveland Indians 7-6 and Bob Feller failed for the third straight time to snare victory No. 20. He was not charged with the loss because he was removed for a pinchhitter during a two-run Tribal rally in the ninth.

The Philadelphia Athletics squeezed out a 5-3 ten-inning victory over the Chicago White Sox with Sam Chapman accounting for all the A's runs on two homers. He hit one in the sixth with two on and broke up the game in the 11th with another, his 19th of the year, with one on. Luman Harris and Bump Hadley allowed the Sox only six hits.

EXPECT LARGE ATTENDANCE AT BENEFIT GAME

Manager "Coxey" Pearce and a committee from the U. S. O. board, are completing plans for Sunday afternoon's Warren-Jamestown Old Timer game at Wilder Field, Irvine.

A pre-game ticket sale opened today in Warren and nearby communities, with all tickets selling for thirty-five cents, the proceeds, of course, completely benefiting the United Service Organizations.

Among the stars of former years that those who go to the game will see are such one-time standouts as "Rabbit" Swanson who is nearly as spry and fast today as ever, and who also adds humorous antics that gain the applause and acclaim of the crowd; "Cannonball" Wilkinson, a one-time fast ball chucker who can still throw a decent strike; "Paddy" Jackson the nearest player in this section to being a two-by-four catcher, but being small never handicapped him in his playing days; and on Jamestown's roster such names as "Swat" Erickson, Montford, Eccles, Mason, Gib Swanson, Black, LeDestro, and Hugh Bedient, one of the finest pitchers ever produced in Jamestown.

The committee in charge of the ticket sale, announces that children under fourteen will be passed free at the gate. It is hoped that the community's sport fans will give their maximum support to this contest so that the money which is made will aid the U. S. O. in providing recreation centers near army camps for the many soldiers now answering the call of their government to prepare to defend, if necessary, the freedom and democracy of this nation.

BACK TO HORSE-AND-BUGGY DAYS

BY JOHN A. GILES

Charlotte, N. C., July 31—(AP)—R. Horace Johnston, whose trotting horse, Bill Gallon, will be a favorite in the Hambletonian at Goshen, N. Y., Wednesday, is considered a freshman by veterans of the rig business.

Just three years ago to the day of the Hambletonian, which is to trotting as the Kentucky Derby is to thoroughbred racing, Johnston went to Hanover Farm sales in Harrisburg, Pa., to buy a colt. Most trotting horse racers spend years before they land a contender in the Goshen race.

Johnston, millionaire manufacturer, had been a horseman for 45 years, but this was his first fling at trotting. He paid $1,800 for Bill Gallon, which sold under the name of Ashley Hanover and was by Sandy Flash out of Calumet Aristocrat.

"I just liked his looks," Johnston said. "Of course, I had years of experience with horses behind me, but this was my first time with trotters.

"It was nothing in the world but luck—just luck."

But Johnston's eye for horseflesh was something else besides luck. He recalled that "I could see he had no lost motion, how he sprang from the hocks and ran straight."

A year later Johnston knew he had one in a thousand. As a two-year-old the even-tempered trotter was a champion and a leading money winner.

"I've got the fastest horse in the race," he said, "and with a minimum of luck and the right track conditions Bill Gallon will come in first. We've licked the other entries in previous races and I don't see anything to stop us."

"The time? It should be 2:02."

Bill Gallon, trained and driven by Lee Smith (a freshman in the Hambletonian, too, and with little experience as a driver in the Grand Circuit) had a 1940 time of 2:04. He stands a little more than 15 hands and because of his trueness of gait, keeps his speed and seldom makes mistakes.

ENTERTAIN YOURSELVES SO THAT SOLDIERS MAY HAVE RECREATION

We can think of no better way to offer your individual contribution to the United Service Organizations, or an additional bit if you have already given to the cause, than by buying a ticket to the Warren-Jamestown Old Timers' game to be held at Wilder Field, Irvine, next Sunday afternoon, starting at two thirty o'clock. For in the first place, you'll enjoy the afternoon watching the slightly gray performers of yesteryear put on an exhibition that, while it won't be quite as fast a ball game as they would have given twenty years ago, we can promise you will have all the thrills and more than you'll ever see in an average ball game. And, judging by the crowds that have passed thru the gates at Irvine to see the Forge play this summer, many Warren fans, and those of this section, have not seen a ball game during this campaign.

The two teams of veterans will offer something different and quite amusing, with their antics and play, and all that will be needed to make the fracas an overwhelming success is the support of baseball followers for the game. Now the outstanding goal that the committee and the players would like to reach, is to be able to turn over a large enough gate to the U. S. O. to be of major use in supplying recreation centers for the boys in army camps today. Places where they may go and find entertainment, where they may spend their leisure to advantage; places that will take them off the streets and put a smile on each face that too often presently seems worried, discontent, and entertaining thoughts of what a soldier is missing while pledging his loyalty to his country. It only means thirty-five cents to each of us who buys a ticket to the game, and that ticket entitles the holder to an afternoon of entertainment for himself. But the gross proceeds taken in can and will make a lot of difference to every soldier boy in the army now.

This county presently has, in a rough estimate, between three and five hundred boys in the army, navy or marines, and surely friends and relatives of these boys want them to be taken care of, to have the best of everything, and that includes entertainment. Now, surely, no finer way could be arranged for county sport fans to give to their friends and other soldiers away at camps, than by at least buying a ticket to the Old Timers' game. So let's make the motto for this weekend be, "Entertain yourselves so that Soldiers may have Recreation." Enough said, now let's have maximum co-operation throughout the county. Thank you.

AND SO THERE'S A NEW WELTER CHAMP

Training too much can be just as damaging as not training enough, and that's what happened to Fritzie Zivic when he met Freddie the Red Cochrane Tuesday night for the welterweight title. Fritzie, with ambitions to win three togas now hasn't any due to too much training and the result being staleness. But credit can't be taken away from the Redhead, who though he hasn't any amazing ring record, still must be endorsed as a good fighter if he beat Zivic. And when they meet in a return engagement soon, don't be too surprised if the verdict is the same again.

RED JACKETS TO BE ORGANIZED TONIGHT

Plans will be mapped out tonight for the coming football season when the Red Jacket board and candidates for this autumn's outfit meet in the editorial rooms of the Times-Mirror at 7:30 p. m.

All former high school and college players in this section desiring to play with the Jackets are asked to be on hand, and members of last year's board also are asked to be present.

It is requested that all planning to attend this evening's meeting be prompt so that the business may be talked over and decided upon without any time being wasted.

SPORTS ROUNDUP

BY EDDIE BRIETZ

New York, July 31—Saratoga is filled to the brim with racing visitors, but there is very little of the old mazuma around. . . . Twentieth Century Fox now reported dickering with Billy Conn for a flicker. . . . Fight Manager Eddie Mead, who had a 25 per cent slice of Fritzie Zivic, has been paid off by the fighter himself. . . . Frankie Frisch has tabooed golf for the Pirates. . . . Although Dewey Fragetta has booked fighters for appearances in all parts of the world, the longest trip he ever made away from his Times Square office was to Little Rock, Ark., this week to handle Buddy Knox against Bob Sykes. . . . Clark Shaughnessy, master of the T formation, and Bernie Bierman, of Minnesota, are the headliners for the Iowa School Athletic Association's coaching school at Boone, Aug. 18-21. . . . Henry Armstrong, who has been sparring a bit with Billy Conn on the coast, says the Pittsburgher has the swiftest left hook he ever looked at.

How to Make Fans

At the Yankee Stadium the otherday a foul bounced into the stands and was picked up by a kid. . . . A middle-aged gent grabbed the ball out of the youngster's hand and went away from there. . . . President Ed Barrow promptly sent to the dugout for a new ball for the kid.

This corner miscued when we chronicled that Mel Ott never hit a homer in Boston. Mel's admirers are writing in to say it ain't so. He smacked one into the right field fans off Ed Brand about eight years ago and belted another into the same territory on September 24, 1938. . . . A mighty nifty football brochure from Texas Tech has hit this desk. . . . Bill Werber of the Reds, who spends his winters selling life insurance, has still another sideline. He writes and sells outdoor stories to the pulp magazines and does all right at it, too. . . . One pitcher, Joe Garcia, hurled every game in the 44-game winning streak of the Ansonia (Conn.) brass workers' team. . . . The boys

HITTING SPREE WINS DECISION FOR ELKS CLUB

The Elks Club scored a 15-9 victory over the K. of C. last night on the West Side diamond to tighten the second half title chase in the City softball league and at the same time put themselves within striking distance of the leaders.

Warnie Check, Louis Check and Baldensperger had a small home run parade with Warnie cashing in twice during the game for a round trip ducat and the other two each circling the bases once.

A seven run lead in the first inning gave the Elks confidence and inspiration and then poured it on from then until the final out.

Earl Dorrance was the winning pitcher with Tony Bonavita the loser. The Elks had a total of twenty-one hits, the Caseys collecting thirteen.

trict of Columbia, and all marketing areas in or east of the Appalachian mountains in the states of New York, Pennsylvania, Virginia and West Virginia, and such additional marketing areas in said states where any substantial part of the motor fuel supplies is either produced in any of said states, or shipped into such areas from any point east of such areas."

To assure effectiveness of the closing, Ickes said he was requesting suppliers of gasoline to take such action, including the refusal to make further deliveries of motor fuel, as may be appropriate in cases of continued and deliberate failure on the part of any retailer to observe the recommendation.

Special consideration was given by Ickes to commercial and emergency use of motor vehicles at night, his message to the oil industry providing "that this recommendation shall not apply to the operation of facilities used exclusively after the hour of 7 p. m. and before 7 a. m. in supplying motor fuel to commercial vehicles so classified pursuant to law, nor to the sale and delivery of motor fuel into the tank of any motor vehicle in the event of an emergency involving public health or safety."

The greatest effect of the restrictions on hours of sale, Ickes said, would be "to emphasize to the public the seriousness of the situation."

Confidence also was expressed by Ickes that the oil industry would cooperate wholeheartedly.

Ickes foresaw no serious unemployment as a result of the night time station closings.

West Part of State Visited By Hard Storms

colorful escorts of a deluge in the Pittsburgh district.

Widely scattered showers and thunderstorms brought relief today to much of the area still sweltering from the year's worst heat wave.

Most of the baked eastern two-thirds of the nation enjoyed falling temperatures starting Monday but readings of 102 were taken yesterday in Carbondale, Ill., and Oklahoma City, and 101 in St. Louis.

Warmer weather, meanwhile, was moving eastward from the northern plains states.

The heat wave cost 346 lives, 178 by prostration and 168 by drowning.

THYSSEN STILL RICH

New York, July 31—(AP)—The Herald Tribune said today that Fritz Thyssen, German industrialist, credited with helping to finance Adolf Hitler's rise to power, "has $3,000,000 in American cash salted away in the bank vaults of downtown New York."

Minister Extends Regrets

bombing of the United States gunboat Tutuila were received with mild satisfaction today but there was no immediate indication that the incident was thus closed.

Officials waited for complete details of Ambassador Joseph C. Grew's conversation with the Japanese foreign minister, Vice Admiral Teijiro Toyoda, before disclosing whether the Japanese expressions were entirely satisfactory.

Still awaiting clarification was the question of whether Japan had given adequate guarantees that steps were being taken to prevent a recurrence of such incidents.

In announcing that immediate representations were made to Japan, Sumner Welles, acting secretary of state, indicated the government would not accept Japanese explanations that the bombing was an accident and mistake. He pointed out that the Tutuila, and the American embassy at Chungking which was barely missed, were across the Yangtze river from the capital city proper.

The prompt action of the Japanese government in apologizing and expressing regrets was regarded as an indication, however, that it was anxious to avoid any further tension in the already badly strained relations with this country.

Meanwhile, the Japanese, while manifesting some apprehension, apparently were ready to risk their merchantmen in American ports for the present.

Although the State Department still refused specific assurances on the ships, developments indicated that Japan had decided to permit at least some of her United States-bound vessels to make port.

More than 40 of them have been lying off the coasts for days, because of owners' fears that they might be immobilized in American waters under last week's order freezing all Japanese assets.

The $15,000,000 liner Tatuta Maru put into San Francisco yesterday six days behind schedule—the first to dock since the freezing order. Subsequently, another overdue Japanese freighter reached Balboa in the Canal Zone. Other belated Japanese ships headed for Honolulu and Seattle.

However, diplomatic sources here detected Japanese uneasiness in the plans for a quick turnabout of the ships once they had discharged passengers, or, in some cases cargo. They mentioned the abrupt decision to have the Tatuta Maru sail for Japan today instead of proceeding to Los Angeles as scheduled when she docked.

The belief was expressed in some quarters that the Japanese decided to risk their ships under present conditions in the belief that if the United States acted against them, Japan could take reprisals against American shipping in the Far East.

Another interpretation was that Japan anticipated no new major developments in the Far East, and thus felt safe in relying on the State Department's pronouncement that normal procedure would be followed in facilitating the departure of the ships under "present conditions."

There was some speculation as to whether continuance of these "present conditions" might be affected by the character of Japan's reply to the sharp representations made yesterday by the State Department over the air attack which damaged the Tutuila in the Yangtze river during a bombing raid on Chungking, the Chinese capital.

San Francisco, July 31.—(AP)—Wary of possible worsening of relations between the United States and Japan, N. Y. K. Line officials hurried preparations today for departure of their $15,000,000 liner Tatuta Maru, which ventured into port only after cruising indecisively off the California coast for seven days.

The huge motorship, her 243 passengers shouting and singing as she passed through the Golden Gate, docked here yesterday. In her holds were $2,500,000 worth of raw silk, 200 tons of tea and other goods, but no move had been made to obtain permission to discharge the cargo.

It likely will still be aboard when the ship leaves for Japan, probably about noon Friday.

Brooklyn Navy Yard Workers Are Exempted

The city-wide strike, involving 8,000 workers, started after the company refused to hire 600 union members in the building of a new powerhouse. The company contended that it had a contract with an independent organization, the Consolidated Edison employes.

The steel workers walked out at Timken in a dispute over the discharge of five women after a union official said, incorrectly numbered parts were found in work which had passed the quintet's inspection tables.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE IS BANNED IN GERMANY

Berlin, July 31.—(AP)—Christian Science has been forbidden in Germany, effective immediately, the authoritative news commentary, Dienst Aus Deutschland, disclosed today.

Adolf Hitler ordered the ban, it said, "for protection of the public and state."

TWO BODIES IN RIVER

Pittsburgh, July 31—(AP)—The crew of the steamer Reliance found the bodies of two unidentified men floating in the Ohio river near the west end bridge today.

Furious Fighting Admitted

man troops were knifing deep into "defeated Russian armies" retreating into the Ukraine.

Simultaneously, the Germans branded as a "dismal failure" the first joint-British-Russian military action of the 40-day-old conflict—an aerial assault yesterday on a Nazi-occupied port in northern Norway.

The Germans said the British lost 28 planes launched from a carrier in the Arctic ocean.

In London, the Admiralty reported that British naval aircraft violently attacked the northern port of Kirkenes, Norway, and the Finnish port of Petsamo, hitting at least four ships and inflicting "great damage" on jetties and other port facilities. The British acknowledged 16 planes lost.

With the Russo-German struggle midway in its sixth week, an official Rome announcement said Italy's expeditionary corps has now reached its "zone of assembly on the eastern front" to fight with the Germans against the Soviets.

Moscow dispatches reported that the German luftwaffe had been beaten off in three attempts to bomb Leningrad. The Red Army communique said heavy fighting raged throughout the night in familiar sectors—Porkhov, Novorzhev, Smolensk and Zhitomir—indicating that there had been no marked change in the battle lines.

In the Far East, tension eased somewhat as Japan, apparently anxious to avoid any further strain in relations with the United States, virtually "jumped the gun" to apologize for bomb damage to the U. S. gunboat Tutuila during a Japanese air raid on Chungking, China.

In Moscow, Harry L. Hopkins, president Roosevelt's personal representative, was expected to continue conferences with Premier Joseph Stalin.

The Russians said a German air raid attempt on Moscow shortly after Hopkins saw Stalin at the Kremlin was thwarted and the raiders forced to turn back with the loss of one plane.

LACK OF MATERIALS FORCE MILLS TO CLOSE

Philadelphia, July 31.—(AP)—Lack of silk and other material forced the closing today of the Courtland Mill of the Gotham Silk Hosiery Company, Inc., which employes approximately 600 workers.

Another of the company's knitting mills here employing about 1,800 will have to curtail production within a few days if the shortage of material continues, William K. Leader of the CIO American Federation of Hosiery Workers said he had been advised by Samuel F. Rubin, assistant to the president of the firm.

Closing of the Gotham plant, said Leader, is only the first in an anticipated series of shutdowns resulting from the government order freezing Japanese assets in this country.

SISTERS MEET DEATH IN FRONT OF AUTO

Aliquippa, July 31.—(AP)—Two little girls, frolicking along with four of their brothers and sisters for a swim yesterday, were fatally injured by an automobile as they crossed the road near their home.

Mary Theresa Mott, 6, died before she could be taken to a hospital and Frances Mott, 7, died several hours later.

The coroner said he was told an older sister had signalled to the children to cross the road and they dashed across after one car passed, only to run into the path of another.

They were daughters of Mr. and Mrs. John Mott.

CULT CASE ENDS

Los Angeles, July 31.—(AP)—Irma Weber, 19, who asserted she was mistreated by Henry Sorge, a disciple of the Mazdaznan cult, when she was 11 years old, lost her suit for $1,000,000 damages. A superior court jury of seven men and five women refused her plea for damages from Sorge and the Reorganized Temple Association of Associates of God after deliberating seven hours last night.

BRAZIL DECREE

Rio de Janeiro, July 31.—(AP)—President Getulio Vargas extended today a decree halting foreign language publications in Brazil, giving them 30 more days to change over to Portuguese or to suspend publication. The extension ends "unalterably" Aug. 30. The decree ordering "nationalization" of about 50 newspapers and periodicals within six months was issued last January.

ANNUAL BROODS

Although it takes each individual 17 years to mature, 17-year locusts are to be seen every year, since broods hatch annually.

BIDS FOR RAILS STEADY MARKETS

New York, July 31—(AP)—Bids for rails and specialties helped steady the stock market today although many leaders struggled unsuccessfully to get in the rallying ranks.

The direction was a bit cloudy at the start and, near the final hour, fractional irregularity was the rule. Dealings were fast at intervals and transfers for the full proceedings were at the rate of approximately 900,000 shares.

Quick Action on Price Control Bills Expected

(From Page One)

Anticipating that no attempt would be made in the legislation to control wages, Bankhead said many congressmen "are opposed to price fixing on agricultural commodities, especially when no effort is made to control the price of industrial labor. x x x x A very vigorous and determined effort will be made to protect the farmers from having their income unfairly reduced by an arbitrary price-fixing program."

Chairman Smith (D-SC) of the Senate agriculture committee likewise announced flat opposition to any attempts to fix farm products.

On the House side, Republican Leader Martin (Mass) supported the general opposition to "runaway prices" but added that "I do not believe Mr. Henderson is the right man for the job" of controlling prices.

IMPORTANT ARREST

New York, July 31—(AP)—Treasury department narcotics agents today announced the arrest in St. Louis, Mo., of Jacob (Kuppy) Migden, 32, long sought in connection with the mistaken identity slaying of Irving Penn, 42, in July, 1939. The agents said Migden was found undergoing extensive treatments at the Barnes hospital in St. Louis to have his nose altered, his eyes re-shaped, and his features changed generally.

EDSON'S WASHINGTON COLUMN

Then there is the matter of paying off Vermont for its expenses in the War of 1812, it looks as though that's going to be cleared up at last, and the amount which Uncle Sam will have to shell out to the Green Mountain boys is $92,868.90.

It seems that the young republic could borrow money from the states back in those days, and did. Vermont went into hock for about $11,000 to help finance the war. The government wasn't able to pay off immediately, so the claim stood on the books for quite a spell. Then the Vermont state house burned in 1857, and the record of the loan was lost. No proof, no payment.

In 1926, however, somebody found a duplicate set of books, and with typical Yanee frugality and maple syrup stick-to-it-iveness, the Vermonters set out to collect. They got their claim before the audit bureau of the comptroller general's office in 1935, and they figured out that the interest had in the meantime piled up by some $57,000 and there were new claims bringing the principal up to $35,000. So the account was frozen there.

But Congressman Charles Albert Plumley, of Northfield, Vt., keeps bringing the matter up from time to time. If you know Vermonters, you have an inkling of whether or not the state will collect. And when the federal government considers paying off a debt in these days, that's news.

NAZIS CLAIM RED DEFENSES CRUMBLING BEFORE LENINGRAD

FURIOUS FIGHTING ADMITTED

While Invaders Are Reported to Have Destroyed Seven Soviet Army Divisions on Northeast Front, Moscow Bulletin, Reporting Bitter Hostilities All Along 2,000-Mile Front, Gives No Hint That Fall of City Is Imminent

ITALIANS SAID TO BE IN ZONE OF ASSEMBLY

By the Associated Press

Adolf Hitler's invasion armies may expect a vast counter-offensive by 3,000,000 Red army troops within two weeks, Soviet military quarters in London predicted today, while the Germans declared that Nazi columns smashing toward Leningrad had destroyed seven Russian divisions (about 105,000 men).

London sources said Red army ranks which underwent the first violent shock of the German blitzkrieg were now being strengthened by hundreds of thousands of reservists for the predicted counter-drive.

These sources declared that Premier Joseph Stalin would give the signal for the big push immediately he was satisfied that the German armies had spent their reserve strength in attempts to batter their way through the central front to Moscow.

Soviet dispatches asserted that the Germans were being held to a standstill and were exhausting themselves in futile assaults on Soviet offenses.

By contrast, Berlin pictured the Russians as cracking along the entire front and indicated that Nazi forces may soon have Leningrad under siege.

German troops smashing toward Leningrad, Russia's great western port, were reported today to have destroyed seven Red Army divisions (about 105,000 men) on the northeast front.

Nazi dispatches said the Russian troops were annihilated after completion of a German encirclement movement. Thousands of prisoners were reported taken.

Earlier advices had already indicated that Soviet defenses were crumbling before Leningrad, with German columns striking from the south and Finnish troops moving down the Karelian peninsula from the north in a gigantic "squeeze" maneuver.

A Red Army bulletin, reporting bitter fighting all along the 2,000-mile battlefront, gave no hint that the fall of Leningrad might be imminent.

North of the city of more than 3,000,000 population, lying on the Gulf of Finland, the Germans said Russian troops were spraying the forests and fields with naptha and then setting them afire with artillery barrages in a desperate attempt to stem the advance.

Whether the Russians would put Leningrad itself to the torch, in execution of Premier Stalin's "scorched earth" policy, remained to be seen.

Adolf Hitler's headquarters, commenting on the Leningrad thrust, declared tersely:

"Units fighting in Estonia threw back the opponent to the north."

On the central front, in the drive toward Moscow, the Nazi communique asserted that a steel trap around Red armies east of Smolensk had been "further tightened."

In the south, it was said, Ger-

Ratification of Oil Compact is Requested

Washington, July 31—(AP)—President Roosevelt was asked by a large delegation today to transmit for congressional ratification the new interstate oil compact signed by 11 states and extending for two years from September 1, 1941 an agreement to conserve oil and gas.

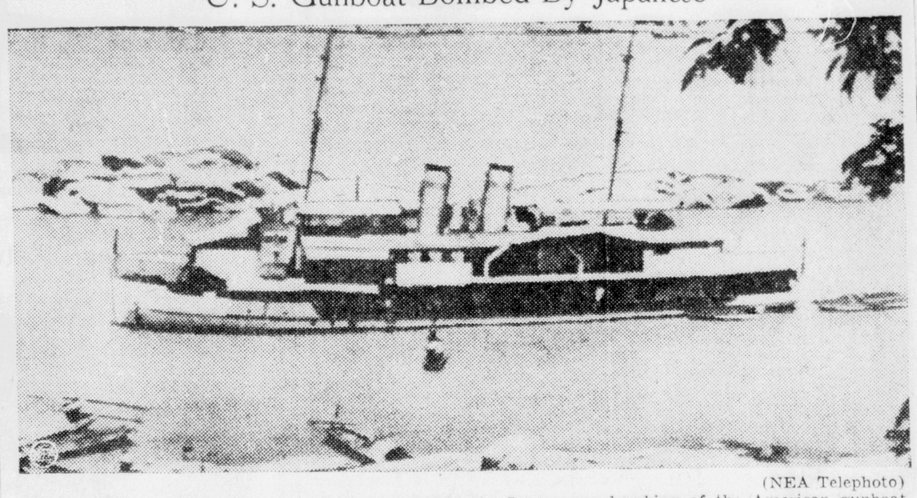

The original copy of the compact was presented to the president by a delegation of oil men and congressional leaders.

States which have agreed to the compact are Arkansas, Louisiana, New York, Pennsylvania, Oklahoma, Texas, Kansas, Colorado, New Mexico, Illinois and Michigan.

Representatives of the Interstate Oil Compact Commission said the 11 produced approximately 74 per cent of the nation's total oil production. They predicted that other producing states would soon join the compact.

LINES DRAWN FOR FIGHT TO FINISH IN PHILADELPHIA

Ousted State Secretary of Revenue William J. Hamilton, Jr., Formally Declares War Against the Quaker City Republican Leadership

MAY BE STATE-WIDE

Philadelphia, July 31—(AP)—Battle lines took shape today for what may be one of the bitterest political rivalries Philadelphia has known. Some observers believed it eventually may become a state-wide fight.

William J. Hamilton Jr., ousted state secretary of revenue, formally declared war against the Quaker City Republican leadership and pledged a finish fight in the coming primary election.

"You can rest assured we are going to wage a real fight against that old gang in Philadelphia," he said upon arrival from Harrisburg. "We are swinging right into action for the primary. The chips are down for a finish fight."

He hurried to city hall for conferences with two associates, Sheriff David M. Watson, Republican leader of the 22nd ward, and Austin Meehan, leader of the 35th ward, to map "plans for a permanent organization to lick this gang."

That the battle is on also was evidenced by resignation of W. Atlee Burpee Jr., as a trustee of Eastern Penitentiary. The Philadelphia business man, a Hamilton-Watson-Meehan candidate for the Republican nomination for city treasurer in the Sept. 9 primary, flatly said he was quitting because of Hamilton's dismissal.

Governor James ousted the revenue secretary on the ground he was engaging in factional politics in Philadelphia instead of serving all the people of the commonwealth. Hamilton charged his dismissal was dictated by Joseph N. Pew, oil executive and heavy contributor to the Philadelphia GOP organization which Hamilton is opposing. James said it was his own idea.

Crisis in Russo-German Struggle Still Lies Ahead, Experts Agree

Marked Unwillingness to Predict Ultimate Outcome is Manifested in Informed Government Quarters in Washington

RIVAL CLAIMS MYSTIFY

BY EDWARD E. BOMAR

Washington, July 31—(AP)—Belief that the crisis of the Russo-German struggle still lies ahead was expressed today in informed government quarters on the basis of a limited and uncertain flow of official reports supplementing the formal communiques from Berlin and Moscow.

A marked unwillingness to predict the ultimate outcome was manifest, however, in contrast with the widespread feeling at the start of the invasion more than five weeks ago that a Nazi victory was inevitable and probably would come swiftly.

One top official acknowledged that the government had as much difficulty as the reading public in trying to sift hope, prejudice and propaganda from the rival claims of the belligerents.

Nevertheless, officials with access to the most authoritative available data showed a guarded inclination to favor German chances for further smashing triumphs this summer.

The Nazi army has shown the same willingness as in France, the Balkans and Crete to sacrifice men and arms to gain objectives, it was noted.

Officials concerned with technical military aspects of the vast conflict expressed particular interest in these reports:

The Russians claim an early and almost complete elimination of parachute and air-borne infantry attacks.

About half the credit was given to the policy of arming peasants and turning them into guerilla fighters.

The Russians also have presented evidence in support of a claim to perfection of anti-aircraft defenses.

The detailed reports made evident that the Germans, too, have developed an extremely efficient anti-tank defense. Because of it, Nazi infantry has been able to score heavy gains in the Ukraine, even though faced with superior Red army armored units.

The official reports tend to confirm Berlin claims that a number

WEST PART OF STATE VISITED BY HARD STORMS

Downpour Spells at Least Temporary Relief From Eight-Day Heat Wave But Continued Warm Weather is Predicted in East

TWISTER IN TOWANDA

By the Associated Press

Local thunderstorms was the Pennsylvania forecast today in the wake of severe wind and rain storms which lashed several areas across the state last night, causing considerable damage to crops and buildings.

The downpour spelled at least temporary relief from the eight-day heat wave in western Pennsylvania, but continued warm weather was predicted in the east.

The storm's most spectacular thrust occurred in Towanda, Bradford county. A miniature twister lifted the roof from the large Myrna Lee hosiery mill six feet in the air and dropped it back in ruins, threatening scores of workers and forcing the plant to close down.

The twister leveled several trees in a narrow path through the borough, then dipped into the Susquehanna river, throwing up a spout 20 feet or more high.

Hail accompanied the rain and wind which swept Bucks county.

Residents of Wrightstwon reported hailstones nearly three inches in diameter beat crops to the ground.

Flushed by torrential rains, Newtown Creek rose nine feet within the first hour of a 5.29-hour storm, inundating the business section of Newtown and adjacent residential blocks. Acres of farm land were flooded near the village of Spring Lake. In other sections highways were flooded and telephone and light service interrupted.

Forty-six mile an hour gusts of wind, lightning and thunder were

NEGOTIATIONS WITH RAILROADS HIT DEADLOCK

Chicago, July 31—(AP)—Railroad management and labor negotiators rammed into a deadlock on revision of working rules, despaired of settling the issue among themselves and turned it over to the National Railway Mediation Board today.

They undertook, however, to negotiate a settlement of labor's demand for a multi-millionaire dollar pay increase for 1,150,000 workers.

The nation's Class 1 carriers hoped to effect economies in operating costs by altering working conditions and methods of establishing wages. When negotiations with organized labor started July 24, the managements insisted on disposal of this issue before taking up the wage question.

A deadlock was reached Tuesday

HOPKINS MAY GO TO FAR EAST

While London Reports President Roosevelt's Military Air Coordinator Will Return to States By Some Other Route, Further Conferences With Premier Stalin in Moscow Are Expected to Be Held During the Day

PROBLEMS OF SUPPLY ARE GIVEN ATTENTION

London, July 31—(AP)—Harry L. Hopkins, President Roosevelt's military air coordinator, now in Moscow discussing United States help for Russia, will return to the United States by some route other than London, it was reliably reported today, indicating that he might travel through the Far East. There has been some speculation that Hopkins might visit China. He has pledged both the Chungking and Moscow governments all possible, immediate aid.

Moscow, July 31—(AP)—Further conferences between Premier Joseph Stalin and Harry L. Hopkins, personal representative of President Roosevelt, were expected today—the 40th of the Russian-German war—as the Soviet army was reported battling the Nazi invaders to a standstill in vital sectors of the long battlefront.

Heavy fighting raged throughout the night, a communique said on the path of the German drives toward Leningrad, Moscow and Kiev.

Mention, however, of familiar place names which have appeared in Russian war bulletins for days—Porkhov, Novorzhev, Smolensk and Zhitomir—created the impression there had been no marked change in the fighting lines.

The Russians said they had beaten off three German attempts to bomb Leningrad by daylight yesterday and another attack on Moscow last night. They said their own air force was pounding German ground forces.

Large quantities of German equipment have been captured, the Russians declared, and the Nazis now "are showing lack of artillery and supplies."

Hopkins, who flew to Moscow from London Tuesday, was almost immediately granted an interview with the most important and most inaccessible man in Russia. He said he came to see Stalin at Roosevelt's request and he expected another meeting today and perhaps several more before he leaves.

Giving out one of the few public reports of an interview with Stalin, Hopkins said in a press conference at the U. S. embassy residence:

"We discussed problems of supply, including types and quantity of materials that can be delivered to the U. S. S. R. I cannot presently speak of the details or quantities.

"Stalin gave me a message to transmit to the president. He expressed his sincere appreciation to the president for his offer of assistance and declared he is certain the president and the American people are not mistaken in expressing their conviction that the Soviet people will play their role in crushing Hitler.

"We discussed at some length the situation here in relation to the war with Germany.

QUICK ACTION ON PRICE CONTROL BILLS EXPECTED

Senate and House Leaders Plan Identical Measures in Both Houses on Roosevelt's Request for Broad Regulatory Powers

OPPOSITION FORMING

BULLETIN

Washington, July 31—(AP)—What the head of the federal reserve board described as "everything on the inflation front" came up for discussion today at a White House conference on legislation to establish ceilings on prices and rents. Marriner S. Eccles, the reserve board chief, and Leon Henderson, price administrator, talked over the whole situation of prices and installment credit in a half hour conference with President Roosevelt. Afterward Eccles gave newspaper men his terse summary of the meeting and Henderson waved to them with a a document he said was a "copy of my bill" to control prices.

Washington, July 31—(AP)—Congressional leaders planned speedy action today on President Roosevelt's request for broad price-fixing powers to meet inflationary trends "threatening to undermine our defense effort."

Senate and House leaders said identical bills would be introduced in both Houses today.

Senate Majority Leader Barkley (D-Ky) acknowledged that there had been several last minute changes proposed in the measures, but like other congressional leaders and Leon Henderson, defense price administrator, he remained secretive about exact details.

Although President Roosevelt's message to congress yesterday evoked bi-partisan support in both Houses, it also aroused rumblings of vigorous opposition, especially from farm-minded lawmakers.

Senator Bankhead (D-Ala), who has sponsored many administration farm bills, bluntly announced that he would oppose any ceiling on cotton at less than 20 cents a pound.

ANOTHER FEE ALLOWED IN BLACK TOM CASE

Philadelphia, July 31—(AP)—Another million-dollar fee in the Black Tom lawsuit has been granted to Amos J. Peasley, the Clarksboro, N. J., attorney who once sold shares in his interest in the case for one fiftieth of their face value.

Peasley proved German saboteurs blew up the Black Tom terminal of the Lehigh Valley Railroad at Hoboken, N. J., in 1916, and won a verdict of $10,000,000 for the railroad from the German government.

His share figures out to $4,899,855.72. He was allowed the first $1,000,000 of this fee a month ago and yesterday's decision of Federal District Court brought the sum paid him to $2,000,000.

LONG MISSING SWEDISH LINER REGARDED LOST

BY JOHN A. MOROSO, III

New York, July 31—(AP)—A mystery of the sea was disclosed today when Swedish government officials at Stockholm ruled officially that the cargo-passenger liner Venezuela must be regarded as lost with eight passengers and 41 crew members.

The ruling closed a two months' investigation instituted after the new 6,991-ton vessel vanished on a voyage from Gothenburg to Rio de Janeiro.

Nothing could be learned about the ship. Belligerents denied sinking her, no wreckage was found and no storms ruffled the north Atlantic during the period of the voyage.

The vessel left Gothenburg April 8 with a "safe conduct" guarantee

MINISTER EXTENDS REGRETS

Fresh Strain on Relations Between Washington and Tokyo Over Shelling of Tutuila at Chungking, China, Relieved When Vice Admiral Teijiro Toyoda Deprecates Incident in Talk With Ambassador

LINER TATUTA MARU IN SAN FRANCISCO PORT

BULLETIN

Washington, July 31—(AP)—Sumner Welles, acting secretary of state, said today Japanese apologies for the bombing of the U. S. gunboat Tutuila in China were insufficient to close the incident. This government, he said, awaits a more complete reply from Japan to the American representations made here and in Tokyo. Welles said that immediately upon being informed of the incident at Chungking yesterday morning, a representative of the Japanese government called at the embassy in Tokyo and expressed deep regrets.

BY MAX HILL

Tokyo, July 31.—(By telephone to New York)—(AP)—Foreign Minister Vice Admiral Teijiro Toyoda offered apologies and expressed regret today to United States Ambassador Joseph C. Grew for the bombing of the United States gunboat Tutuila at Chungking, China.

Grew and Toyoda talked at the foreign office for 20 minutes.

The chief aide of the Japanese navy ministry also visited the American naval attache, Commander Henri Smith-Hutton, to express his regrets.

The apologies and regret over the bombing, which occurred yesterday, were offered before the American envoy was able to make the representations he had been instructed to make by Washington.

Before Ambassador Grew could go to the foreign office this morning, Vice Foreign Minister Kumaichi Yamamoto called at the American embassy.

BROOKLYN NAVY YARD WORKERS ARE EXEMPTED

Striking AFL Electrical Employes Announce They Will Go Back to Jobs as O. P. M. in Washington Had Requested

VIOLENCE FLARES UP

By the Associated Press

Striking AFL electrical workers today exempted a $70,000,000 expansion program at the Brooklyn navy yard from their walkout and announced they would go back to work immediately as the Office of Production Management in Washington asked them to do.

The city-wide strike would continue on other construction projects, union officials said.

That walkout and a strike of the CIO-Steel Workers Organizing Committee at the Timken Roller Bearing Company plant at Columbus, Ohio, were the principal strike controversies dotting the national scene.

Outside the defense field, there was violence in the New York city dispute. An ironworker suffered cuts on the face and head, but refused medical treatment, after eight men assaulted him at the picket line of the Edison Company's new powerhouse. He tried to cross the line.

This is Pay-Day for Boys at Indiantown

BY F. L. FITZPATRICK

Indiantown Gap, July 31—(AP)—This is pay-day for the nearly 18,000 officers and troops of the 28th Division in training at this military reservation, and the approximately $800,000 July payroll now being disbursed is the largest here to date.

The rise of about $100,000 in the payroll from June to July was due, chiefly, to the tremendous increase of the constantly growing personnel.

During the past month some 3,800 Selectees went on the payroll here, and there were a number of promotions that affected the salary lists greatly.

The 28th Division's baseball squad of 17 players—armed with advice from Honus Wagner, Pittsburgh Pirates' coach, who visited this reservation yesterday afternoon, leaves tomorrow morning for Fort du Pont, Del., for "baseball maneuvers."

Echo of Austin Flood Heard In Opening of Bids for the Mill

Austin, July 31.—(AP)—Residents of this Potter county village, which is on the verge of becoming a "ghost town," kept their fingers crossed today for they saw a chance Austin might regain a prosperity that was swept away 30 years ago on the crest of a disastrous flood.

By evening they will know whether the Bayless Pulp and Paper Corporation mill, whose dam broke 30 years ago and caused a flood that ravaged Austin and took 80 lives, will be operated again or dismantled. The town was rebuilt after the flood but the mill, in receivership since 1933, closed its doors last September.

Judge Robert R. Lewis of Coudersport, who has sought to solve the problems of the firm and save it for the town, has finally approved its sale. The bids will be opened late today. The factory, last industry here of any size, once employed 300 on an annual payroll of $300,000.

The 800 inhabitants, one-fourth of the hey-day population in 1910, hope the purchaser will start the mill wheels turning again. It was disclosed that careful consideration would be given to a bid to operate the plant even if it is lower than a bid received to dismantle the mill.

TO CUT PRODUCTION

Talon, Inc., of Meadville, disclosed today that effective August 10th it will reduce its production of slide fasteners for civilian purposes by 25 per cent because of heavy defense demands for metal alloys, especially copper. The company, which employs 4,500 at Meadville and 1,800 at Erie, said decision as to whether the Erie plant will be closed or run on a partial basis will be announced later. Because of War Department orders, personnel in the tool room and machine shop at Meadville probably will be unaffected.

(From Page One)

Mayor George M. Bonham, of Willkie's home town, Elwood, yesterday telegraphed invitations to "the leaders of the two minority parties" to discuss U. S. foreign policy at an "anti-war" rally Sunday in Callaway Park, scene of Willkie's formal notification of his nomination last August.

The Keep America Out of War Congress announced in New York that Thomas had accepted the invitation.

Said Willkie, who is spending a week at the home of his mother-in-law, Mrs. Cora Wilk:

"I have stated my position on the foreign policy of the United States many times.

"There are no war issues in the United States today. Everybody would like to have us stay at peace, but we will not stay at peace merely because we wish to do so.

"Our best hope of achieving peace is by helping to the limit those nations that are doing their utmost to stop Naziism, which seeks to dominate the world. No man, however, can insure peace to America."

among Japan's best. They described them as ready for action, if necessary, and not for exhibition only.

With a program worked out in fine detail, the Japanese moved precisely into their recently acquired naval and air bases, the army, navy and air force collaborating in methodical manner.

They have brought in their own tents, trucks, fuel, food and a wide variety of other equipment.

Along a French-police route, a three-hour parade of Japanese trucks loaded with troops and equipment moved from the dock area, where the men arrived in transports yesterday, to three stations whose exact locations were kept a military secret.

in conferences with delegates of the 14 non-operating unions and last night with those of the big five operating brotherhoods.

Management said it sought more authority in work assignments. F. C. Gurley, chairman of the carriers' conference committee, said existing rules sometimes required roads to pay employes for work they did not do and to pay claims for wages after a lapse of several years.

Union spokesmen contended the proposed revision would place their men "completely at the mercy of the known and unpredictable demands of management" and if accepted by the employes "would repudiate the publicly acclaimed benefits achieved under the railway labor act."

At Torshavn, Faroes Islands, the Venezuela picked up eight survivors of the Finnnish freighter Carolina Thorden, which had been destroyed by German bombers a few days earlier.

The Venezuela sailed for Rio April 14 and radioed April 17 that she would reach South America on May 2.

Nothing more ever was heard of her.

Owners of the vessel, one of the fastest and most modern in the world, have checked every possible source for survivors. None has been found.

Possibly ten such divisions have been moved westward over the trans-Siberian railway, leaving some 40 infantry, cavalry and mechanized divisions to face the Japanese. An undetermined number of an original force of about 2,400 warplanes in the Far East likewise has been transferred.

White Hill Boys Slug Guard and Escape

Charles M. Baker, Jr., (left), guard at the new White Hill Industrial School for Boys, and Dr. M. Wilson, White Hill physician, examine a piece of pipe with which Baker was struck on the head by two boys who escaped from the institution. The boys were identified as Waverly L. Browder, 20, and George Clark, 19, both of the Philadelphia district.

White Hill, July 31—(AP)—Major Henry C. Hill, superintendent of the new Pennsylvania Industrial School, expressed confidence today two youthful prisoners who escaped Monday night would be apprehended, despite the lack of new clues. Hill said Waverley Browder, 20, and George Clark, 19, the escaped prisoners, in all probability would be charged with assault with intent to kill a guard, Charles L. Baker, who was slugged on the head, and with larceny of an automobile. Baker was discharged from the school hospital yesterday. He was struck by an iron stake.

STRIKE THREATENED

An A. F. of L. union has disclosed it has threatened a walkout Monday at Smethport plant of the Quaker State Oil Refining Company unless wage demands are met. J. C. Wiedmann, international representative of the Brotherhoods of Firemen, Oiler and Refinery Workers, said the union seeks a flat raise of 15 cents an hour for all affected employes and "a livable wage beyond 55 cents per hour" for wax house employes.

SWISS INDEPENDENCE

Radio brings America a reminder tonight that at least one small part of Europe is still at peace: Switzerland. It is the 650th anniversary of Swiss independence. CBS has scheduled a description of the ceremonies for 5 p. m. and NBC-blue for 7 p. m.

KILLED ON CURVE

A Washington, D. C., man was killed and his wife injured late yesterday when their automobile rolled over five times after leaving the Lakes to Sea highway on a curve near DuBois. George V. Martin, 68, was killed and Mrs. Martin, who was thrown clear, suffered a broken rib. The couple had planned to visit Martin's brother, Attorney Gervas Martin, in Franklin. Their son, Dr. George V. Martin Jr. is an assistant chief surgeon at the Indiantown Gap military hospital.

PATROL STRIKE AREA

State motor police were on hand today to assist Sheriff George Calhoun by patrolling the vicinity of the plant of the Holgate Brothers Company at Kane where a strike was called Saturday by the CIO-United Paper Novelty and Toy Workers Union. Major Jacob Mauk, of the Greensburg state police barracks, said he did not expect "serious trouble" but that help had been asked by the sheriff. The union seeks wage increases and a closed shop. Calhoun said pickets yesterday halted a light truck near the plant and turned the machine around in the opposite direction.

I wish to announce myself as a candidate for the office of District Attorney, subject to the decision of the Republican voters at the Primaries, Sept. 9, 1941.

TOYS AND THE WAR

Toymakers, preparing for the Christmas season, report a growing demand for war games in which trade there has been a big lull since World War No. 1.

Just as papa and mama are showing more interest in Stukas and Spitfires, panzer divisions and Garand rifles, U-boats and convoys, so are little Jimmy and Mary demanding fighter planes, tanks and Red Cross ambulances, manufacturers say.

"There has been no wild clamor for war toys," an official of one of the nation's largest toy concerns, in Pittsburgh, is quoted as explaining, "but there is a definite increased demand and we have taken steps to meet it.

"For instance, we have developed a battleship, and aircraft carrier and a submarine since the war started."

Asked if parents appeared to be trying to discourage their children's interest in warlike weapons, the manufacturer said he did not believe that factor influenced the market any way.

"Children decide what they want to play with and if the parents show reluctance to buy the toys they want, the kids just put 'the heat' on them," he explains.

YUM! YUM

(From the Valley Daily News, Tarentum)

For the fellow who enjoys his meals—and how blessed is he—the golden days of the year are about to dawn. For, corn is ripening in the field and tomatoes are growing a ruddy red under the burning rays of the sun. Soon those succulent roasting ears will be adorning the center of the table flanked with thick slices of beefsteak tomatoes. What a feast for a king.

Weather conditions have been ideal, and, farmers tell us, the corn and tomato crops are going to be excellent. Prices are a bit high today but they'll slump one of these days when the supply going to market becomes greater.

So, enjoy your roasting ears and tomatoes at every opportunity. The season is short at best. And, as you eat be thankful you live in a land where such delicacies are available. Just remember that in many lands of Europe the people are getting just enough of the plainest food to keep soul and body together. Such meals as you sit down to every day would be banquets to them.

THE PEOPLE—YOU SAID IT

When a man reaches the age of a U. S. district judge, people usually permit him the privileges of looking down a lean nose at the modern world and the modern people in it, and musing that neither is as good as they used to be.

Judge George A. Welsh of Philadelphia took himself a 600-mile bicycle trip (at a cost of $30) this summer, and he met and talked to a lot of people. Just ordinary people, Americans. He came back reassured.

He found out that the people are all right. They haven't changed. At heart they are the same people with whom the judge grew up years ago. The changes are all on the surface. You can trust these people, the judge concluded.

Lincoln liked them, and trusted them, and allowed that there is no better hope in the world. Carl Sandburg felt that way when he wrote "The People—Yes!" Now Judge Welsh echoes both, with a resounding "The People—You Said It!"

The entire area will receive wide publicity through the new table place mat now being used at the Geracimos Co. store in Liberty street. It is a map of Warren and vicinity, drawn by Elton Davis, local artist, and should be very attractive for tourist use. All points of interest in the county are listed from the Cornplanter reservation to the observatory at Hearts Content. As a matter of fact, one must study the mat to enjoy a real appreciation of it. Congratulations, Geracimos Co., for an enterprising promotion scheme.

Many in Warren are discovering that one way to find out how it feels to be a stuffed olive is to go on a picnic.

This is the season of the year when the mails are jammed with those "Having-a-good-time-wish-you-were-here" cards.

Shake-Up

• EDSON'S WASHINGTON COLUMN

BY PETER EDSON
Times-Mirror Correspondent
Correspondent

Washington, July 31—There is so much big news from Washington these days that a lot of the little news doesn't get printed. This is as it should be in an age of priorities—first things first.

But if you believe the old ungrammatical saw that "it's the little insignificant things that count" you should know that Congress, even though it meets only two or three afternoons a week, still has time for some of these little drops of water and little grains of sand that make the mighty oceans we have determined to keep free, as well as the beautiful land that we won't allow Hitler or his minions to set foot on.

You probably didn't hear, for instance, that the House of Representatives passed a law the other day which makes it a federal offense to steal chickens if you take 'em across state lines.

The good statesmen didn't intend to pass the law that way in the first place, but it happened that there was a bill (S. 1261) providing for the punishment of persons transporting stolen cattle in interstate commerce, and for other purposes. It was "for other purposes" that left the door open for the chickens to walk in.

The bill was very specific about defining cattle as "one or more bulls, steers, oxen, cows, heifers or calves, or the carcasses of one or more bulls, steers, oxen, cows, heifers or calves." No chances of making a mistake on that, and the penalty called for not more than $5000 or five years.

The committee which had this measure in charge, however, decided that the coverage wasn't broad enough, so they put through an amendment which defined cattle as "one or more bulls, steers, oxen, cows, heifers, calves, sheep, hogs or horses."

The amendment got by the committee that way although you'd think that even congressmen would know that sheep, hogs and horses were hardly cattle. There was one congressman smart enough to catch that, and it was none other than Jesse P. Wolcott, of Port Huron, Mich. So Congressman got up and made 'em change the law. Had 'em strike out the word "cattle" because he had looked it up in the dictionary and found cattle were bovine animals, and bovine animals were horned animals such as sheep, goats and buffalo. Furthermore, said Jesse, hogs didn't have horns, though he didn't specify whether he looked this up in the dictionary or was just relying on memory.

Anyway, Jesse's real purpose was to include chickens because the chicken stealing business was as bad as the bovine stealing business, so he proposed changing the bill to read "animals or fowl" and to include "ducks, geese, turkeys and so forth.

Francis Case, of Custer, S. D., made a few remarks in support of this idea. And while Francis E. Walter, of Easton, Pa., said he thought the word "cattle" covered all animals, and while Earl C. Michener, of Adrian, Mich., warned that the measure would put J. Edgar Hoover's G-men in the interstate chicken-thief-catching business and make the FBI double its force;—the bill was ordered to be engrossed and read a third time, was read a third time, and passed.

P. S. Similar legislation has been vetoed by the president twice before.

YEARS AGO IN WARREN

Interesting Items Taken From the Warren Evening Times

Sufficient interest has been aroused locally to warrant a meeting this evening in the K. of C. hall for the purpose of organizing a council of the American Association for the Recognition of the Irish Republic. James Sweeney, former president of the Friends of Irish Freedom here, will preside.

Danzig Under German Rule for Third Time

DANZIG, that beautiful city at the mouth of the Vistula river in the old Polish Corridor, has had a stormy history.

Three times it has fallen under German rule. On Sept. 1, 1939, Nazi legions pushed into Poland, made Danzig a part of the Reich.

This stamp, one of the winter help series of 1935, shows the Danzig stock exchange building. Under the Treaty of Versailles, Danzig became a free city, flew its own flag, made its own laws, maintained an army and issued its own money and stamps. All that ended when Germany took over.

The city was founded by Germans at the beginning of the 13th century. Polish Pomeranian dukes ruled until 1308. The Teutonic knights assumed control and governed until 1454.

From 1454 to 1793 the city was associated in a personal union with the kings of Poland.

In 1807, Danzig became a free city for the first time under French sponsorship. With the collapse of the Napoleonic regime, Danzig returned to Prussia, thus remained until the Treaty of Versailles.

A Washington Daybook

By JACK STINNETT

WASHINGTON—You have heard what most of the big cities, especially New York, are doing about civilian defense, but I want to tell you about a fair-sized chunk of the "hinterlands" that took matters into its own hands and now has the jump on a lot of the metropolitan areas—including Washington.

I got this straight from Julian Capers, Jr., of Longview, Tex., who has had a hand in it all.

Almost as soon as civilian defense was mentioned, the East Texas Chamber of Commerce, which embraces 70 counties and better than 3,000,000 people, appointed a national defense committee, headed by Jess A. McGill, a Scot from Paris, Tex. The committee notified Washington they were ready and waiting. And what happened? Nothing.

As Capers puts it, "We got a little weary of waiting for some one in Washington to get down to brass tacks and outline a plan for organizing civilian sentiment and support. So the committee took the bull by the horns."

Three members of the committee were put in the field with instructions to organize "County Councils for National Defense," in every one of those 70 counties. It wasn't any slap-hazard idea either. They had a plan. They called meetings and at each, practically on demand if that's what it took, were the county judge, the mayors of the important cities and towns and leaders of ex-service organizations, labor groups, the schools, women's clubs, and prominent farmers. And when the meeting was over, those folks found they were the "county council for national defense."

Keep The Field Clear

THROUGH McGill's committee, these councils were and are now being apprized of every phase of civilian defense. They are clearing houses for all authentic information, thus keeping the field clear of all bogus fund collectors, unfounded rumors and national defense racketeers. They are quickly informed of every new law, regulation, restriction and priority that issues from here and maintain information services to pass these along to the public.

When the United Service Organizations drive started, they were weeks ahead of many communities. When the call went out for the collection of aluminum, the councils were ready and waiting and putting it over caused no more organizational fuss than passing the plate in church on Sunday.

The county councils also took over aid to the defense savings bond and stamp sales. I checked the Treasury on that and was told that East Texas is doing "right well" which certainly is a Texas way of saying, "They ain't ailing, Brother."

Train Their Speakers

THE county councils have had a lot of support from their newspapers, but have augmented that with speakers' bureaus of from 20 to 40 persons in each county and now are conducting speakers' training schools.

To top it off, and test their wings, they recently held an "East Texas National Defense Day," with 400 mass meetings throughout 70 counties, attended by nearly a half-million persons.

Among the "tangible" results, I'll let Capers tell you of one: "While hundreds of millions of national defense contracts—including production of oil and refinery products, shipbuilding, airplane, shell, munitions, army clothing and equipment manufacture—are being carried out in Texas, there has not been a strike or labor difficulty there since defense started."

East Texas isn't the only locality where this sort of thing is going on. There are others. I just thought I'd mention it and tell the Civilian Defense Chief LaGuardia that when he starts passing out bouquets for civilian defense efforts, he'll do well to toss a few beyond the big-city limits.

The Missionary Circle of the W. S. C. S. of the Methodist church met with Mrs. Stella Cowles for a silver tea on Thursday afternoon.

The leader, Mrs. Ellen Mahan, read the scripture and Rev. Naylor of Russell led in prayer. The roll call was responded to by each member repeating a bible verse commencing with the letter "F".

Mrs. Mahan then introduced Rev. Naylor, who gave an interesting message. Miss Marjorie Randell, of Russell, gave several selections on the harp. Out of town guests were: Mrs. Lois Larson and daughter Carrol, of Long Beach, Cal., and Mrs. Grace Peterson, of Warren. Lunch was served by the hostess and a committee.

Mr. and Mrs. Eli Wiggins, of Mt. Jackson, Pa., were recent callers on friends here.

Recent guests of Mr. and Mrs. Steven Hitchcock were Mrs. Grace Peterson, Miss Joyce Peterson and Wendell Peterson, of Warren.

Word has been received here by friends of the death of Benjamin Raymond, of Sharon Springs, Kansas. Mr. Raymond will be remembered here as the husband of Mrs. Clara Wilcox Raymond, formerly of this place.

The Hill and Dale Garden Club was entertained by Mrs. Winnie Hill at her home on Wednesday afternoon. The assisting hostesses were Mrs. Clara Burgett, Mrs. Mabel Lindell and Mrs. Ellen Mahan. The president, Mrs. Floy McIntire, was in charge of the meeting. Bundles for Britain committee reported receipts of $33 from the sale at the flower show and luncheon, which was sent to buy medical supplies for bombed hospitals. The program consisted of the study book being presented by Mrs. Sarah Scott. The chapter dealt with flower arrangements.

The committee then put on Mock wedding, which proved an amusing affair. The August meeting will be an out-of-door picnic. The transportation committee to decide on the location.

New "Jewelry" May Seem Odd at First, but IT GROWS ON YOU

ONE of the queerest of the tropical oddities found in the Miami area is the "Leaf of Life." Absorbing its nourishment from the air, it needs no water or earth on which to thrive. Each leaf sprouts smaller ones within a week. Comely Ora Bridges, left, wears a growing "Leaf of Life" as a decoration on her sweater. To the left of it for contrast a leaf is shown before sprouting.

BESHLIN DRAWS FIRST POSITION ON GOP BALLOT

First place on the Republican ballot in the contest for the judge- ship of Warren and Forest coun- ties went to Attorney E. H. Besh- lin, who filed nomination petitions on both the Republican and Dem- ocratic tickets, it was learned today.

The drawing for place was held in the office of the secretary of the commonwealth in Harrisburg yes- terday.

Second place on the Republican ballot went to former District At- torney LeRoy C. Eddy, while last position was drawn by Attorney Allison D. Wade.

Attorney Beshlin previously had announced his candidacy on the Democratic ticket, but prior to the drawing, it was not generally known here that he had filed a petition on the Republican ticket.

The judgeship is the only office for which a candidate may run on the primary ballot of more than one party.

In Warren borough, where the principal contests are for council on the Republican ticket, draw- ings were held at the court house Monday. In the first ward, top position for council was won by William E. Rice, with David B. DeForest second. In the fifth ward, Councilman Harold S. Hamp- son is first and Ruel M. Forbes second.

The only other borough contest is for Republican judge of elec- tion in the second ward, with P. H. Colt taking first place and Ray C. Pickett second.

William E. Gibbs, East Orange, N. J., invented the tire valve now used on every automobile and bi- cycle.

This sum is part of a total of $5,159,655 in state aid for the support of public schools in the state which was approved by the auditor general. It represents 56 per cent of the total payment for the year 1939-40. The initial 44 per cent was paid last March.

I'VE REALLY GOT SOMETHING HERE

Last Wednesday The Motor Lighthouse Corporation turned over to my care and operation their Market Street TEXACO Station. I undertook this assignment in the belief it offered an opportunity and I've already been at it long enough to realize that, with TEXACO Products and the convenience of this location, my job is to show that I can give the kind of service to be expected in every good TEXACO Station.

Those who know me, I hope, will be confident of my ability on that score. To them and to the many others who will appreciate the convenience of a real TEXACO Station in this location, I extend a sincere invitation to drop in for a demonstration of my brand of "Circle Service" and the facilities I have to offer. Incidentally, while my supply lasts, I have a very nice little gift for each new visitor. It will appeal particularly to the kids.

APPLICANTS FOR RELIEF IN PA. TO SIGN PLEDGE

Applicants for relief in Warren county, as well as those throughout Pennsylvania, will be required in the future to sign a statement testifying to their patriotism, it was announced today by Secretary of Assistance Howard L. Russell.

The new step in procedure will be taken shortly to carry out the provisions of a new law barring from the public relief rolls any persons advocating overthrow of the government by force.

County assistance boards will be requested soon to include the new standards in their eligibility forms, after the state assistance board approves the wording.

The act is one of three passed by the 1941 legislature to curb subversive activities. The other two bar those with un-American doctrines from the public payroll and from the ballot.

Russell's department is the first to act on the three-point program.

The relief head pointed out that the county boards cannot act against persons who may have committed in the past any overt act which could be construed as subervise. The law, said Russell, plainly restricts the prohibition to such acts committed "hereafter," meaning after the effective date of the act, which was July 28.

America's Card Authority

I only hope every bridge player in the United States will some day have the privilege of visiting Salt Lake City. Never before have I met so many people with such nice dispositions. In Mrs. George B. Corey's Bridge Club in the Utah Hotel they play bridge just as hard as any place else, but I believe there is less argument over bridge in Salt Lake City than any place I have been.

For example, there was plenty of room for argument on today's hand. North won the opening lead with the king of hearts and led the deuce of diamonds. Declarer ruffed. East laid down the king of clubs.

South pounced on it with the ace and led a low diamond, again forcing East. The ten of clubs then brought out South's queen, and South led a third diamond. That gave declarer his contract, as he was able to take out trumps, ending in dummy, and cash the clubs.

North might have blamed South for the persistent diamond leads, pointing out correctly that a second heart lead by South would have killed dummy and set the contract at once.

West might have blamed his partner for taking out the double of four diamonds. Indeed, there was some discussion as to whether this contract can be made. What do you think about it?

Without Painful Backache

Many sufferers relieve nagging backache quickly, once they discover that the real cause of their trouble may be tired kidneys.

The kidneys are Nature's chief way of taking the excess acids and waste out of the blood. They help most people pass about 3 pints a day.

When disorder of kidney function permits poisonous matter to remain in your blood, it may cause nagging backache, rheumatic pains, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness. Frequent or scanty passages with smarting and burning sometimes shows there is something wrong with your kidneys or bladder.

Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, used successfully by millions for over 40 years. They give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from your blood. Get Doan's Pills.

One of the most important advances ever made in the science of computation was the Hindu invention of the zero symbol to represent nothing.

MADE UP TO KILL

by Kelley Roos

YESTERDAY: The opening night of "Green Apples" is done, and it was hectic. First Carol lost her voice, and an understudy was ready to go on. Then the voice came back, and the understudy left in a huff. Then the curtain went down to great applause, and Haila entered the dressing room she shared with Carol—and found her looking haggard, beaten, ill.

Chapter Four

Tangled Threads

WITH a forced brightness Carol said: "I'm all right, Haila. Just done in. I'm going straight up to the apartment and crawl in bed."

"I'd better go with you."

"No, really, Haila. All I need is some sleep and I'll be fine in the morning."

She seemed to mean it and I was anxious to go with Jeff, so I let her win without further argument. We both set to work on our faces in earnest. Through the wall that separated our room from Eve's came the hum of many voices. Outside I heard Jeff telling someone sadly: "I'm sorry, but Miss Rogers can't see anyone. She was attacked about the eyes by a swarm of bees."

Above the hubbub in her room, Eve's voice rose. It was sharp and soft at the same time, the tone one uses to reprimand a child.

"Philip, darling, haven't you had enough acting for one evening? I'm sure all these people have had their money's worth."

"You have the whole play to yourself." Ashley's voice was livid and I was glad I couldn't see his face. "Is it absolutely necessary for you to steal my only scene?"

Eve laughed. "Dear Philip, I have no idea what you're talking about. Really, I haven't."

Jeff slipped into our room, a grin stretching across his face. He jerked his thumb toward the wall and sat close to it where he wouldn't miss a thing.

Ashley was saying: "You know perfectly well. You stood at that table and rattled silver, you rattled glassware all during my long scene. Why didn't you overturn the table, Eve? It would have been much more effective."

"Oh, that!" Eve's words had a dismissing shrug in them. "That was Tom Neilson's fault, or the little Thompson girl's. I'm supposed to arrange flowers during your speech, and where were they? Was I to stand there like a mummy while you droned through your lines?"

"It's customary to be quiet while another actor is speaking," Ashley said acidly. "They teach that at dramatic school."

"Philip, dear Philip, you must read the script one day. I'm not supposed to be interested, even listening while you make that endless speech of yours. Philip never reads a script, you know, just his part." There was a roar from Eve's audience while Ashley said something that ended in hell and was punctuated by a slamming door.

"It's over," Jeff said sadly. "Eve by a technical knockout."

I bunched my purse and gloves together and took Jeff by the arm. "C'mon, Jeff. I've had enough of actors for one day." The moment I said it I could have bitten out my tongue for I had forgotten that Carol was still there. But she hadn't heard me.

"Haila," she said as we reached the door, "may I take your key? I guess I must have left mine in my blue purse."

"Of course." I fished through my pocketbook for it and tossed it to her. "Put it on the ridge over the door. Jeff and I may be late. You're sure you'll be all right?"

"Sure. I will. Go on, you two, have fun."

After the sticky warmth of backstage the night outside seemed bitter cold. A few snowflakes fluttered down and lost themselves on the pavement and the Forty-fourth Street wind whisked up stray programs and whirled them toward Broadway.

"What'll we do, Jeff?"

Waiting For Fate

HE laughed at me. There was really no question of what we would do; we had an old opening night custom. We would tramp all over town biting fingernails and chafing at bits until the reviews appeared at daybreak.

Then, if the notices were bad, Jeff's shoulder would be handy to weep on and together we could curse the critics for their illiteracy and lack of taste. If they were good there would be one more drink to toast them as gentlemen and scholars. It was fine for me, I could sleep all the next day; it was Jeff who took the beating. I asked my usual next question.

"What about work tomorrow, Jeff?"

"I'm on my vacation."

"Vacation!" That wasn't part of the routine. "When did this happen?"

"Today at noon. 'Want to take a two weeks' vacation, Troy?' . . . 'Anything to accommodate you, sir.' . . ."

"Jeff," I said, trying my darnedest to mean it, "you really should get away. Why don't you go to Florida for two weeks?"

"I've never been to Florida."

"Well?"

"I don't want to break my record."

It was early and the smoke at Ralph's was still thin enough for us to find a table. Teddy Hart, whom Jeff considered America's greatest actor since W. C. Fields gave us his career to go into the movies, was at the bar, and Jeff beamed at the sight of him. Jeff ordered Scotch and soda and I went overboard with a Cuba Libra minus the rum.

"Or I might get married," Jeff said, picking up the conversation we had dropped on Eight Avenue.

"To me?"

"It's time we broke up our friendship."

"Let's."

"I've never been married. Do you know anybody in New York who's married? We could find out about it."

"My father and mother were married."

"And look what happened to them. You." He took somebody else's stray arm off the back of his chair and moved closer to me. "Look, Haila, I love you."

"I love you too, Jeff."

"If only I could save some money!"

"Jeff, if the critics come through, I'll be making money for a while. Green Apples might run a year."

"No. We've been through that. I'll have to pick up some more money somehow."

"I'd marry you," I suggested modestly, "if you were only making five dollars and fifty cents a week."

It looked for a second as though I was going to get kissed, but Tommy Neilson broke things up by popping down at our table and losing no time getting tight. He ordered straight rye with a beer chaser and downed both in morose silence. After grunting hello he refused to open his mouth except to fill it.

"Tommy's quite a conversationalist," I explained to Jeff.

"What is there to talk about?" Tommy challenged me.

"Conditions," Jeff said.

"People talk too damn much."

Success?

TOMMY beckoned the waiter and duplicated his order. Jeff and I tried to ignore him but the blanket was too wet. We were about to make our escape when Phoebe Thompson joined our merry group. She took one look at Tommy and wagged her head. "I see we're off to a big evening."

"Oh, I don't blame him," I sympathized. "It's been a tough show. Tommy's worn out."

"It's been a lousy show. The whole damn thing stinks."

Phoebe smiled tolerantly at him. "Nasty, nasty old play! Going to be a hit."

"It stinks. I wish I'd had sense enough to stay out of it. I've been in the theater long enough to know better than to get tangled up in a Clint Bowers production. All of 'em stink."

Phoebe's bright face shadowed. "There's nothing wrong with Clint Bowers' productions. You're drunk."

"I'm not down on Clint. I'm tired. I don't like Green Apples. Never have. It was a lousy script when I first read it and it still is. Production hasn't helped it any. An ingénue who loses her voice on opening night. An understudy who walks out. The Eve North-Philip Ashley feud. It's a mess, the whole thing's a mess. Even the scenery's painted badly."

Jeff blinked. "I find myself becoming fascinated. Who lost whose voice? Who walked out? Who is feuding with who?"

I told him then, starting with the case of the missing understudy. Tommy went painstakingly on with his drinking career while I talked. Once he came out of it to mutter, "Yeah, tell him about Carol, the little . . ." I missed the noun but I didn't ask for it again.

Jeff took a long drag on his cigarette and stood up. "I'm beginning to be frightened by actors. Let's get out of here."

It was only twelve-thirty. We had long hours to kill before the first morning editions appeared on the street. Jeff suggested the inevitable, a movie. On Forty-second Street we managed to find a double feature that only one of us had seen half of.

Jeff awakened me by removing his shoulder from under my head. "Is this where we came in?" I asked.

"I can't remember back that far. Let's get out of here and see what day it is."

Times Square had settled down for its short nap before the sun rose. We walked down Seventh Avenue to the Metropolitan and read all the three sheets. We managed to put all of fifteen minutes more behind us by wandering down to Pennsylvania Station. Finally, Jeff decided we should take a ride and he pushed me into a taxi.

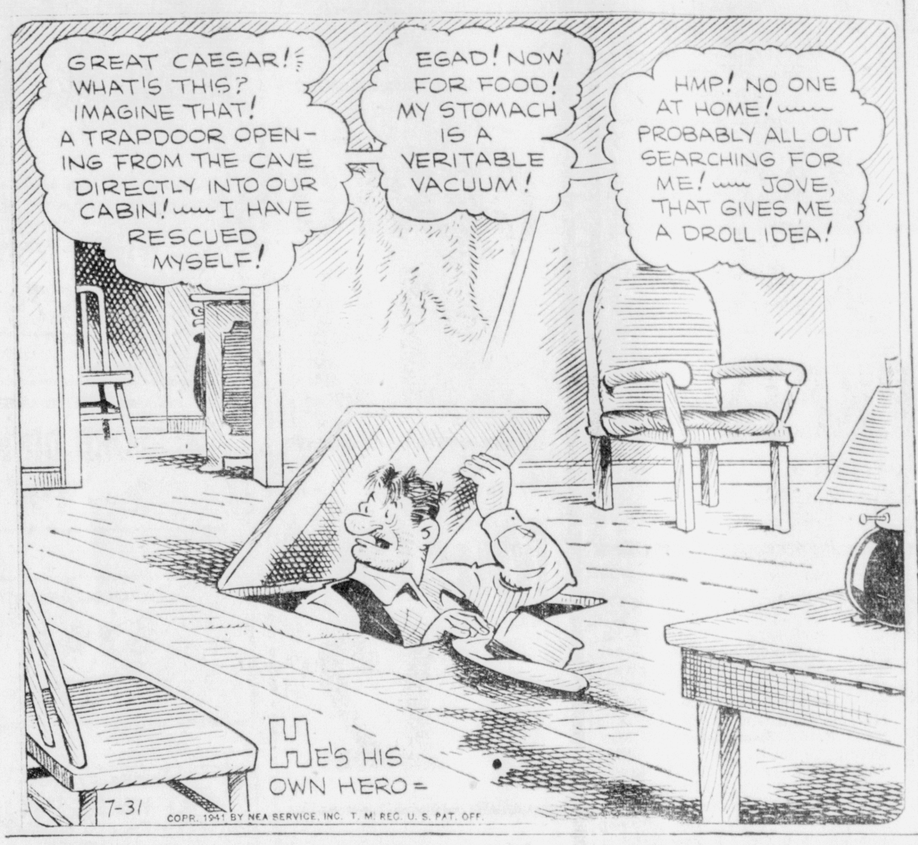

When the meter hit the two dollar mark we got out. We were on Broadway and a hundred and something so we took a subway back to Times Square. The papers were out when we climbed the stairs into the Times Building. We bought them all and lugged them to a restaurant.

On the whole they were enthusiastic. There were nice things about Greely Morris' dialogue and about Clint Bowers' direction. Steve and Ashley and old Ben Kerry were favorably mentioned. I had a few sweet remarks passed about me here and there. But the orchids went to Carol. She was hailed as a discovery, her notices alone would insure the play a run. Green Apples was a hit and we had all scored personal successes. All, that is, except Eve North.

Poor Eve. "Despite a faltering performance by Miss North," was the way the Times ran, and one of the tabloids reported: "The old gray mare ain't what she used to be, which is young, but she won't admit it." The Herald Tribune was cruel in its kindness. Its only mention of Eve was a flattering description of her second act gown.

Redbirds Take Three Game Lead Over Brooklyn Dodgers

Braves Nip Pirates As Redlegs Triumph; Tribe, Feller Lose

BY JUDSON BAILEY
Associated Press Sports Writer

The St. Louis Cardinals have the class that distinguishes a champion and barring a miracle—or a catastrophe—they are likely to proceed to the National League pennant.

They have plenty of pitching, fine fielding and marvelous power—eight hitters batting over .300 and one who was .299 in the last official averages. But most of all they have the stamina and courage that is required to come from behind and win close games—the battles that count.

This was the way they beat Brooklyn yesterday, 6-4, to take a three-game lead over the Dodgers in their torrid pennant tussle. The Dodgers scored a run in the first and then were held to one scratch hit for the next five frames, while the Redbirds pulled into a 3-1 lead.

The Dodgers got a run back in the seventh through an error and in the eighth Pete Reiser hit a home run with one on to put Brooklyn in front 4-3.

This only caused the Cardinals to strive harder and they immediately ripped off three runs in their half of the eighth to sew up the game.

Discounting Tuesday's tie this was the fourth straight victory for St. Louis over the Dodgers.

MAJORS CONTRIBUTE

Chicago, July 31—(AP)—The major leagues today presented the United Service Organizations with a check for $53,226.27, representing the net profit on the All-Star baseball game in Detroit July 8.

It was credited to Lefty Ernie White.

The Pittsburgh Pirates yielded third place to Cincinnati again by dropping a 3-2 ten-inning verdict to the Boston Braves while the Reds were pelting the New York Giants 9-0. Bucky Walters acquired his 13th triumph in the latter affair.

At Pittsburgh Jim Tobin, former Pirate, allowed only one hit till the seventh and six altogether. He himself hit a double in the fifth to drive in Boston's only run in the first nine innings. In the tenth Buddy Hassett's fly was misjudged for a triple and two singles brought Boston two runs, enough to withstand a one-run Pirate counter-attack.

The Phillies and Chicago Cubs split a doubleheader. A six-run fifth inning gave the Phils the first session 8-4. Chicago captured the nightcap 5-3 and Tot Pressnell pitched three-hit ball in six innings of relief.

In the American League Washington beat the Cleveland Indians 7-6 and Bob Feller failed for the third straight time to snare victory No. 20. He was not charged with the loss because he was removed for a pinchhitter during a two-run Tribal rally in the ninth.

The Philadelphia Athletics squeezed out a 5-3 ten-inning victory over the Chicago White Sox with Sam Chapman accounting for all the A's runs on two homers. He hit one in the sixth with two on and broke up the game in the 11th with another, his 19th of the year, with one on. Luman Harris and Bump Hadley allowed the Sox only six hits.

EXPECT LARGE ATTENDANCE AT BENEFIT GAME

Manager "Coxey" Pearce and a committee from the U. S. O. board, are completing plans for Sunday afternoon's Warren-Jamestown Old Timer game at Wilder Field, Irvine.

A pre-game ticket sale opened today in Warren and nearby communities, with all tickets selling for thirty-five cents, the proceeds, of course, completely benefiting the United Service Organizations.

Among the stars of former years that those who go to the game will see are such one-time standouts as "Rabbit" Swanson who is nearly as spry and fast today as ever, and who also adds humorous antics that gain the applause and acclaim of the crowd; "Cannonball" Wilkinson, a one-time fast ball chucker who can still throw a decent strike; "Paddy" Jackson the nearest player in this section to being a two-by-four catcher, but being small never handicapped him in his playing days; and on Jamestown's roster such names as "Swat" Erickson, Montford, Eccles, Mason, Gib Swanson, Black, LeDestro, and Hugh Bedient, one of the finest pitchers ever produced in Jamestown.

The committee in charge of the ticket sale, announces that children under fourteen will be passed free at the gate. It is hoped that the community's sport fans will give their maximum support to this contest so that the money which is made will aid the U. S. O. in providing recreation centers near army camps for the many soldiers now answering the call of their government to prepare to defend, if necessary, the freedom and democracy of this nation.

BACK TO HORSE-AND-BUGGY DAYS

BY JOHN A. GILES

Charlotte, N. C., July 31—(AP)—R. Horace Johnston, whose trotting horse, Bill Gallon, will be a favorite in the Hambletonian at Goshen, N. Y., Wednesday, is considered a freshman by veterans of the rig business.

Just three years ago to the day of the Hambletonian, which is to trotting as the Kentucky Derby is to thoroughbred racing, Johnston went to Hanover Farm sales in Harrisburg, Pa., to buy a colt. Most trotting horse racers spend years before they land a contender in the Goshen race.

Johnston, millionaire manufacturer, had been a horseman for 45 years, but this was his first fling at trotting. He paid $1,800 for Bill Gallon, which sold under the name of Ashley Hanover and was by Sandy Flash out of Calumet Aristocrat.

"I just liked his looks," Johnston said. "Of course, I had years of experience with horses behind me, but this was my first time with trotters.

"It was nothing in the world but luck—just luck."

But Johnston's eye for horseflesh was something else besides luck. He recalled that "I could see he had no lost motion, how he sprang from the hocks and ran straight."

A year later Johnston knew he had one in a thousand. As a two-year-old the even-tempered trotter was a champion and a leading money winner.

"I've got the fastest horse in the race," he said, "and with a minimum of luck and the right track conditions Bill Gallon will come in first. We've licked the other entries in previous races and I don't see anything to stop us."

"The time? It should be 2:02."

Bill Gallon, trained and driven by Lee Smith (a freshman in the Hambletonian, too, and with little experience as a driver in the Grand Circuit) had a 1940 time of 2:04. He stands a little more than 15 hands and because of his trueness of gait, keeps his speed and seldom makes mistakes.

ENTERTAIN YOURSELVES SO THAT SOLDIERS MAY HAVE RECREATION

We can think of no better way to offer your individual contribution to the United Service Organizations, or an additional bit if you have already given to the cause, than by buying a ticket to the Warren-Jamestown Old Timers' game to be held at Wilder Field, Irvine, next Sunday afternoon, starting at two thirty o'clock. For in the first place, you'll enjoy the afternoon watching the slightly gray performers of yesteryear put on an exhibition that, while it won't be quite as fast a ball game as they would have given twenty years ago, we can promise you will have all the thrills and more than you'll ever see in an average ball game. And, judging by the crowds that have passed thru the gates at Irvine to see the Forge play this summer, many Warren fans, and those of this section, have not seen a ball game during this campaign.

The two teams of veterans will offer something different and quite amusing, with their antics and play, and all that will be needed to make the fracas an overwhelming success is the support of baseball followers for the game. Now the outstanding goal that the committee and the players would like to reach, is to be able to turn over a large enough gate to the U. S. O. to be of major use in supplying recreation centers for the boys in army camps today. Places where they may go and find entertainment, where they may spend their leisure to advantage; places that will take them off the streets and put a smile on each face that too often presently seems worried, discontent, and entertaining thoughts of what a soldier is missing while pledging his loyalty to his country. It only means thirty-five cents to each of us who buys a ticket to the game, and that ticket entitles the holder to an afternoon of entertainment for himself. But the gross proceeds taken in can and will make a lot of difference to every soldier boy in the army now.

This county presently has, in a rough estimate, between three and five hundred boys in the army, navy or marines, and surely friends and relatives of these boys want them to be taken care of, to have the best of everything, and that includes entertainment. Now, surely, no finer way could be arranged for county sport fans to give to their friends and other soldiers away at camps, than by at least buying a ticket to the Old Timers' game. So let's make the motto for this weekend be, "Entertain yourselves so that Soldiers may have Recreation." Enough said, now let's have maximum co-operation throughout the county. Thank you.

AND SO THERE'S A NEW WELTER CHAMP

Training too much can be just as damaging as not training enough, and that's what happened to Fritzie Zivic when he met Freddie the Red Cochrane Tuesday night for the welterweight title. Fritzie, with ambitions to win three togas now hasn't any due to too much training and the result being staleness. But credit can't be taken away from the Redhead, who though he hasn't any amazing ring record, still must be endorsed as a good fighter if he beat Zivic. And when they meet in a return engagement soon, don't be too surprised if the verdict is the same again.

RED JACKETS TO BE ORGANIZED TONIGHT

Plans will be mapped out tonight for the coming football season when the Red Jacket board and candidates for this autumn's outfit meet in the editorial rooms of the Times-Mirror at 7:30 p. m.

All former high school and college players in this section desiring to play with the Jackets are asked to be on hand, and members of last year's board also are asked to be present.

It is requested that all planning to attend this evening's meeting be prompt so that the business may be talked over and decided upon without any time being wasted.

SPORTS ROUNDUP

BY EDDIE BRIETZ

New York, July 31—Saratoga is filled to the brim with racing visitors, but there is very little of the old mazuma around. . . . Twentieth Century Fox now reported dickering with Billy Conn for a flicker. . . . Fight Manager Eddie Mead, who had a 25 per cent slice of Fritzie Zivic, has been paid off by the fighter himself. . . . Frankie Frisch has tabooed golf for the Pirates. . . . Although Dewey Fragetta has booked fighters for appearances in all parts of the world, the longest trip he ever made away from his Times Square office was to Little Rock, Ark., this week to handle Buddy Knox against Bob Sykes. . . . Clark Shaughnessy, master of the T formation, and Bernie Bierman, of Minnesota, are the headliners for the Iowa School Athletic Association's coaching school at Boone, Aug. 18-21. . . . Henry Armstrong, who has been sparring a bit with Billy Conn on the coast, says the Pittsburgher has the swiftest left hook he ever looked at.

How to Make Fans

At the Yankee Stadium the other day a foul bounced into the stands and was picked up by a kid. . . . A middle-aged gent grabbed the ball out of the youngster's hand and went away from there. . . . President Ed Barrow promptly sent to the dugout for a new ball for the kid.

This corner miscued when we chronicled that Mel Ott never hit a homer in Boston. Mel's admirers are writing in to say it ain't so. He smacked one into the right field fans off Ed Brand about eight years ago and belted another into the same territory on September 24, 1938. . . . A mighty nifty football brochure from Texas Tech has hit this desk. . . . Bill Werber of the Reds, who spends his winters selling life insurance, has still another sideline. He writes and sells outdoor stories to the pulp magazines and does all right at it, too. . . . One pitcher, Joe Garcia, hurled every game in the 44-game winning streak of the Ansonia (Conn.) brass workers' team. . . . The boys

HITTING SPREE WINS DECISION FOR ELKS CLUB

The Elks Club scored a 15-9 victory over the K. of C. last night on the West Side diamond to tighten the second half title chase in the City softball league and at the same time put themselves within striking distance of the leaders.

Warnie Check, Louis Check and Baldensperger had a small home run parade with Warnie cashing in twice during the game for a round trip ducat and the other two each circling the bases once.

A seven run lead in the first inning gave the Elks confidence and inspiration and then poured it on from then until the final out.

Earl Dorrance was the winning pitcher with Tony Bonavita the loser. The Elks had a total of twenty-one hits, the Caseys collecting thirteen.

trict of Columbia, and all marketing areas in or east of the Appalachian mountains in the states of New York, Pennsylvania, Virginia and West Virginia, and such additional marketing areas in said states where any substantial part of the motor fuel supplies is either produced in any of said states, or shipped into such areas from any point east of such areas."

To assure effectiveness of the closing, Ickes said he was requesting suppliers of gasoline to take such action, including the refusal to make further deliveries of motor fuel, as may be appropriate in cases of continued and deliberate failure on the part of any retailer to observe the recommendation.

Special consideration was given by Ickes to commercial and emergency use of motor vehicles at night, his message to the oil industry providing "that this recommendation shall not apply to the operation of facilities used exclusively after the hour of 7 p. m. and before 7 a. m. in supplying motor fuel to commercial vehicles so classified pursuant to law, nor to the sale and delivery of motor fuel into the tank of any motor vehicle in the event of an emergency involving public health or safety."

The greatest effect of the restrictions on hours of sale, Ickes said, would be "to emphasize to the public the seriousness of the situation."

Confidence also was expressed by Ickes that the oil industry would cooperate wholeheartedly.

Ickes foresaw no serious unemployment as a result of the night time station closings.

West Part of State Visited By Hard Storms

colorful escorts of a deluge in the Pittsburgh district.

Widely scattered showers and thunderstorms brought relief today to much of the area still sweltering from the year's worst heat wave.

Most of the baked eastern two-thirds of the nation enjoyed falling temperatures starting Monday but readings of 102 were taken yesterday in Carbondale, Ill., and Oklahoma City, and 101 in St. Louis.

Warmer weather, meanwhile, was moving eastward from the northern plains states.

The heat wave cost 346 lives, 178 by prostration and 168 by drowning.

THYSSEN STILL RICH

New York, July 31—(AP)—The Herald Tribune said today that Fritz Thyssen, German industrialist, credited with helping to finance Adolf Hitler's rise to power, "has $3,000,000 in American cash salted away in the bank vaults of downtown New York."

Minister Extends Regrets

bombing of the United States gunboat Tutuila were received with mild satisfaction today but there was no immediate indication that the incident was thus closed.

Officials waited for complete details of Ambassador Joseph C. Grew's conversation with the Japanese foreign minister, Vice Admiral Teijiro Toyoda, before disclosing whether the Japanese expressions were entirely satisfactory.

Still awaiting clarification was the question of whether Japan had given adequate guarantees that steps were being taken to prevent a recurrence of such incidents.

In announcing that immediate representations were made to Japan, Sumner Welles, acting secretary of state, indicated the government would not accept Japanese explanations that the bombing was an accident and mistake. He pointed out that the Tutuila, and the American embassy at Chungking which was barely missed, were across the Yangtze river from the capital city proper.

The prompt action of the Japanese government in apologizing and expressing regrets was regarded as an indication, however, that it was anxious to avoid any further tension in the already badly strained relations with this country.

Meanwhile, the Japanese, while manifesting some apprehension, apparently were ready to risk their merchantmen in American ports for the present.

Although the State Department still refused specific assurances on the ships, developments indicated that Japan had decided to permit at least some of her United States-bound vessels to make port.

More than 40 of them have been lying off the coasts for days, because of owners' fears that they might be immobilized in American waters under last week's order freezing all Japanese assets.

The $15,000,000 liner Tatuta Maru put into San Francisco yesterday six days behind schedule—the first to dock since the freezing order. Subsequently, another overdue Japanese freighter reached Balboa in the Canal Zone. Other belated Japanese ships headed for Honolulu and Seattle.

However, diplomatic sources here detected Japanese uneasiness in the plans for a quick turnabout of the ships once they had discharged passengers, or, in some cases cargo. They mentioned the abrupt decision to have the Tatuta Maru sail for Japan today instead of proceeding to Los Angeles as scheduled when she docked.

The belief was expressed in some quarters that the Japanese decided to risk their ships under present conditions in the belief that if the United States acted against them, Japan could take reprisals against American shipping in the Far East.

Another interpretation was that Japan anticipated no new major developments in the Far East, and thus felt safe in relying on the State Department's pronouncement that normal procedure would be followed in facilitating the departure of the ships under "present conditions."

There was some speculation as to whether continuance of these "present conditions" might be affected by the character of Japan's reply to the sharp representations made yesterday by the State Department over the air attack which damaged the Tutuila in the Yangtze river during a bombing raid on Chungking, the Chinese capital.

San Francisco, July 31.—(AP)—Wary of possible worsening of relations between the United States and Japan, N. Y. K. Line officials hurried preparations today for departure of their $15,000,000 liner Tatuta Maru, which ventured into port only after cruising indecisively off the California coast for seven days.

The huge motorship, her 243 passengers shouting and singing as she passed through the Golden Gate, docked here yesterday. In her holds were $2,500,000 worth of raw silk, 200 tons of tea and other goods, but no move had been made to obtain permission to discharge the cargo.

It likely will still be aboard when the ship leaves for Japan, probably about noon Friday.

Brooklyn Navy Yard Workers Are Exempted

The city-wide strike, involving 8,000 workers, started after the company refused to hire 600 union members in the building of a new powerhouse. The company contended that it had a contract with an independent organization, the Consolidated Edison employes.

The steel workers walked out at Timken in a dispute over the discharge of five women after a union official said, incorrectly numbered parts were found in work which had passed the quintet's inspection tables.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE IS BANNED IN GERMANY

Berlin, July 31.—(AP)—Christian Science has been forbidden in Germany, effective immediately, the authoritative news commentary, Dienst Aus Deutschland, disclosed today.

Adolf Hitler ordered the ban, it said, "for protection of the public and state."

TWO BODIES IN RIVER

Pittsburgh, July 31—(AP)—The crew of the steamer Reliance found the bodies of two unidentified men floating in the Ohio river near the west end bridge today.

Furious Fighting Admitted

man troops were knifing deep into "defeated Russian armies" retreating into the Ukraine.

Simultaneously, the Germans branded as a "dismal failure" the first joint-British-Russian military action of the 40-day-old conflict—an aerial assault yesterday on a Nazi-occupied port in northern Norway.

The Germans said the British lost 28 planes launched from a carrier in the Arctic ocean.

In London, the Admiralty reported that British naval aircraft violently attacked the northern port of Kirkenes, Norway, and the Finnish port of Petsamo, hitting at least four ships and inflicting "great damage" on jetties and other port facilities. The British acknowledged 16 planes lost.

With the Russo-German struggle midway in its sixth week, an official Rome announcement said Italy's expeditionary corps has now reached its "zone of assembly on the eastern front" to fight with the Germans against the Soviets.

Moscow dispatches reported that the German luftwaffe had been beaten off in three attempts to bomb Leningrad. The Red Army communique said heavy fighting raged throughout the night in familiar sectors—Porkhov, Novorzhev, Smolensk and Zhitomir—indicating that there had been no marked change in the battle lines.

In the Far East, tension eased somewhat as Japan, apparently anxious to avoid any further strain in relations with the United States, virtually "jumped the gun" to apologize for bomb damage to the U. S. gunboat Tutuila during a Japanese air raid on Chungking, China.

In Moscow, Harry L. Hopkins, president Roosevelt's personal representative, was expected to continue conferences with Premier Joseph Stalin.

The Russians said a German air raid attempt on Moscow shortly after Hopkins saw Stalin at the Kremlin was thwarted and the raiders forced to turn back with the loss of one plane.

LACK OF MATERIALS FORCE MILLS TO CLOSE

Philadelphia, July 31.—(AP)—Lack of silk and other material forced the closing today of the Courtland Mill of the Gotham Silk Hosiery Company, Inc., which employes approximately 600 workers

Another of the company's knitting mills here employing about 1,800 will have to curtail production within a few days if the shortage of material continues, William K. Leader of the CIO American Federation of Hosiery Workers said he had been advised by Samuel F. Rubin, assistant to the president of the firm.

Closing of the Gotham plant, said Leader, is only the first in an anticipated series of shutdowns resulting from the government order freezing Japanese assets in this country.

SISTERS MEET DEATH IN FRONT OF AUTO

Aliquippa, July 31.—(AP)—Two little girls, frolicking along with four of their brothers and sisters for a swim yesterday, were fatally injured by an automobile as they crossed the road near their home.

Mary Theresa Mott, 6, died before she could be taken to a hospital and Frances Mott, 7, died several hours later.

The coroner said he was told an older sister had signalled to the children to cross the road and they dashed across after one car passed, only to run into the path of another.

They were daughters of Mr. and Mrs. John Mott.

CULT CASE ENDS

Los Angeles, July 31.—(AP)—Irma Weber, 19, who asserted she was mistreated by Henry Sorge, a disciple of the Mazdaznan cult, when she was 11 years old, lost her suit for $1,000,000 damages. A superior court jury of seven men and five women refused her plea for damages from Sorge and the Reorganized Temple Association of Associates of God after deliberating seven hours last night.

BRAZIL DECREE

Rio de Janeiro, July 31.—(AP)—President Getulio Vargas extended today a decree halting foreign language publications in Brazil, giving them 30 more days to change over to Portuguese or to suspend publication. The extension ends "unalterably" Aug. 30. The decree ordering "nationalization" of about 50 newspapers and periodicals within six months was issued last January.

WEST POINT DUE FRIDAY

New York, July 31.—(AP)—The U. S. navy transport West Point is due to arrive here tomorrow noon from Lisbon with 388 passengers, including 212 American consuls and their families who were ousted from Europe in a diplomatic exchange that sent Italian and German consuls home from the United States.

HIGHWAY FATALITY

ANNUAL BROODS

Although it takes each individual 17 years to mature, 17-year locusts are to be seen every year, since broods hatch annually.

BIDS FOR RAILS STEADY MARKETS

New York, July 31—(AP)—Bids for rails and specialties helped steady the stock market today although many leaders struggled unsuccessfully to get in the rallying ranks.

The direction was a bit cloudy at the start and, near the final hour, fractional irregularity was the rule. Dealings were fast at intervals and transfers for the full proceedings were at the rate of approximately 900,000 shares.

Quick Action on Price Control Bills Expected

(From Page One)

Anticipating that no attempt would be made in the legislation to control wages, Bankhead said many congressmen "are opposed to price fixing on agricultural commodities, especially when no effort is made to control the price of industrial labor. x x x x A very vigorous and determined effort will be made to protect the farmers from having their income unfairly reduced by an arbitrary price-fixing program."

Chairman Smith (D-SC) of the Senate agriculture committee likewise announced flat opposition to any attempts to fix farm products.

On the House side, Republican Leader Martin (Mass) supported the general opposition to "runaway prices" but added that "I do not believe Mr. Henderson is the right man for the job" of controlling prices.

IMPORTANT ARREST

New York, July 31—(AP)—Treasury department narcotics agents today announced the arrest in St. Louis, Mo., of Jacob (Kuppy) Migden, 32, long sought in connection with the mistaken identity slaying of Irving Penn, 42, in July, 1939. The agents said Migden was found undergoing extensive treatments at the Barnes hospital in St. Louis to have his nose altered, his eyes re-shaped, and his features changed generally.

WAR AND DUST

Dust storms in America were caused by the World War in Europe, since farmers broke the soil on all available acreage and set the stage for wind erosion, because of high-priced wheat.

ABOUT QUICKSAND

Then there is the matter of paying off Vermont for its expenses in the War of 1812, it looks as though that's going to be cleared up at last, and the amount which Uncle Sam will have to shell out to the Green Mountain boys is $92,868.90.

It seems that the young republic could borrow money from the states back in those days, and did. Vermont went into hock for about $11,000 to help finance the war. The government wasn't able to pay off immediately, so the claim stood on the books for quite a spell. Then the Vermont state house burned in 1857, and the record of the loan was lost. No proof, no payment.

In 1926, however, somebody found a duplicate set of books, and with typical Yanee frugality and maple syrup stick-to-it-iveness, the Vermonters set out to collect. They got their claim before the audit bureau of the comptroller general's office in 1935, and they figured out that the interest had in the meantime piled up by some $57,000 and there were new claims bringing the principal up to $35,000. So the account was frozen there.

But Congressman Charles Albert Plumley, of Northfield, Vt., keeps bringing the matter up from time to time. If you know Vermonters, you have an inkling of whether or not the state will collect. And when the federal government considers paying off a debt in these days, that's news.
